LOOK OUT FOR FIRE!

To Theater Owners, Managers and Whom it May Concern

This is to certify that I have equipped the Windsor theater in this city with the Lindgren stationary chemical fire engines. After examining all other systems of fire protection and after repeated tests of the Lindgren stationary chemical fire engine and upon the recommendation of the insurance underwriters I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the cheapest and most powerful as well as perfect fire protection for theaters ever invented. In my opinion every theater and opera house in the United States as well as Europe, should be equipped with these chemical fire engines and thus save the loss of life and thousands of dollars in property.

Respectfully

To Whom it May Concern

This is to certify that I, George A. Burbank, witnessed the exhibition of the Lindgren chemical engine test to-day and as I have witnessed a great many such chemical tests in New York City, Boston, Mass. and other large cities in the East, I hereby state that it was the quickest and most satisfactory test and was also pronounced so by two of our councilmen and all the citizens present, and I will also state that the time of applying the chemical was left entirely to me and I did not give the word until the fire was well started for in other tests I have witnessed they have always put the chemical on the minute the fire was started and water would answer just as well, as there was nothing but the flame started and the wood not charred and I take great pleasure in recommending the Lindgren as far superior to any other "Chemical" engine on the market.

JOHN B. ALLEN'S LUCK

He Draws the Thirty-ninth Place for Washington,

AND GETS A TERM OF FOUR YEARS

Senator Squire Will Go Out of Office on March 4, 1891

BILLS THAT DOLPH INTRODUCED

Fortification of the Coasts—Public Buildings at Portland and Salem—Senate Bills on Every Subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—The senate had a lottery to-day of greater proportions than has ever been witnessed in that body in the history of the country. Six senators from three new states drew for order of admission into the Union and for terms, under a complicated resolution introduced by Senator Hoar, which he said was in conformity with the resolution of May 17 1789 and the constitution. Senators Pierce and Casey of North Dakota were sworn in just as soon as possible after the chaplain's prayer. Mr Cullom presented Mr Pierce's credentials and escorted him to Vice-President Morton's desk and Mr Washburn did the same courtesy for Mr Casey. It took but a minute to repeat the oath, and then Mr Morton turned to one side of his desk and gave a hand to each of the senators.

When the senators drew for the terms Senator Cullom presented a memorial from North Dakota indorsing Senator Pierce for the long term. Senator Sherman smiled when it was read. Mr Hoar hinted that the legislature had nothing to say about it. Mr Gorman agreed with him and cited a similar instance when Minnesota's first senators came in and when the legislative indorsement did not count.

Mr Call, of Florida, argued the other way, holding that the legislature was entitled to choose on such matters. At this somebody in the gallery said something about the old question about state rights being involved. The matter was settled by action which called for the drawing in the old way without regard to the North Dakota legislature.

Then came the lottery. The draw was first for order of precedence by states and Senators Allen, Casey and Moody, for the three states drew slips of paper from a ballot box.

Allen got No 1, so Washington is the thirty-ninth. Moody got No 2 giving South Dakota the fortieth place and Casey's luck gave North Dakota the forty-first place. That leaves Montana for the baby state. Washington was accordingly the first to settle on the length of terms and there were slips of paper representing a four and a two year term put in the box.

Allen drew first and got the four year term, leaving Squire with but two years to serve his state. South Dakota came next with a chance at a two, a four and a six year term. Pettigrew always had great luck in the draw. "I'll bet on him for the six year term," said a South Dakota man in the gallery. He would have won his bet for Pettigrew drew the six-year slip. Judge Moody got No 3, and so has only a two-year term. North Dakota also had a chance at the three classes but no six year term was in the box for them. Casey got a four year term and Pierce a two year term. With this distribution Montana will have a chance for a six year term whenever two senators from that state are elected.

It was not ten minutes after the draw before the politicians were figuring on the chance of the short term men for a re-election. In the two Dakotas an entirely new legislature will be elected before Moody and Pierce's terms will expire, while in Washington one half of the present state senators will still be in their seats when Squire's successor is to be chosen.

Among the bills introduced by Senator Dolph to-day were the following: Several bills for the fortification of the coast of Oregon and Washington; for public buildings at Salem and Portland; payment of Oregon and Washington Indian claims; fixing the salary of the judge of district court of Oregon; to create an additional judicial circuit in and for Oregon; making an appropriation for the purpose of paying Indian depredation claims which have been audited and approved by the secretary of the interior and reported to congress; restoring to the United States lands granted to the Northern Pacific; to repeal all laws providing for the pre-emption of the public lands, and the laws allowing entries for timber culture; to grant to the state of Oregon townships 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 south, in ranges 5 and 6 east of the Willamette meridian, in the state of Oregon, for a public park grant to the city of The Dalles, for the purposes of a public park; to prevent the obstruction of navigable waters and to protect public works against trespass or injury; to authorize the Oregon and Washington Bridge Company to construct and maintain a bridge across the Columbia river between the state of Oregon and the state of Washington and to establish it as a post road.

IN THE SENATE

Lottery for Classification of Senators—A Deluge of Bills

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—In the senate the credentials of Pierce and Casey as senators from North Dakota, were presented and the senators took the oath of office.

Hoar reported back the resolution offered by him Monday providing a mode for ascertaining, by lot, the classes to which senators from the three new states—North Dakota, South Dakota and Washington—shall be assigned as to their respective terms of service.

Cullom thereupon presented certificates from the two houses of the North Dakota legislature, designating Pierce as senator for the long term.

Hoar contended that the legislature had nothing to do with the matter, which expressly devolved on the senate.

Gorman remarked that identically the same case had been presented in regard to the first senators from Minnesota when that legislature designated Rice as senator for the long term, and the senate decided that the action could not be regarded by it.

The resolution was agreed to and the drawing by lot, as provided by it, was proceeded with. The result was that of the two senators from the state of Washington Squire was assigned to the class of senators whose term expires March 3, 1891 and Allen to the class expiring March 1893. Of South Dakota's senators Moody got the short term and Pettigrew the long term. Of North Dakota Senator Pierce got the short term and Casey the long.

A petition was presented by Cullom from the Shorthorn Producers Association, in favor of subsidies for steamships to Central and South America and in favor of Chicago as the site of the proposed world's fair in 1892.

A petition was presented by Cockrell, from the Kansas City Commercial Exchange, favoring that city as the site of the world's fair, with Chicago as second choice; also in favor of 1 cent letter postage.

Many bills were introduced and referred, including the following: By Sherman—To make and alter regulations as to the times, places and manner of holding elections for representatives in congress.

By George—In relation to trusts and other combinations in restraint of trade and production.

By Reagan—To define trusts; for free coinage of silver; to repeal the act of sale of bonds to redeem legal tender notes.

By Dawes—Extending the pension law bill prepared by a committee of the G. A. R.

By Stewart—To provide for free coinage of both gold and silver and for issuance of coin certificates to circulate as money.

By Morrill—To refund direct taxes collected under the act of 1861.

By Spooner—Two bills as to the election of members of congress; also a bill to regulate commerce by telegraph.

By Manderson—To grant pensions to ex soldiers incapacitated from manual labor; to prevent summary cancellation of pension certificates and provide a hearing in cases relating thereto.

By Vance—To repeal the civil service law.

By Evarts—Several bills to increase the salaries of United States circuit and district judges.

By Voorhees—For pension arrears on death or discharge.

By Cullom—To equalize rates of pensions in certain cases.

By Farwell—To perpetuate the national banking system.

By Call—Making it unlawful and prohibiting forfeiture of vessels owned by subjects of foreign governments fishing within three leagues of the coast of the United States or within any bays or head lands of the United States.

By Paddock—To exempt railway mail employes and postoffice inspectors from the operations of the civil service law; provide for disposal of Fort Sedgwick military reservation in Colorado and Nebraska, to actual settlers; to permit the organization of national banks with a capital of less than $50 000 in towns of less than 6000 population.

By Morgan—The bill of the last congress referring the La Abra claim to the court of claims for final adjudication.

By Mitchell—Extending the Mexican pension act to all who served thirty days or more in any war since 1845, granting a pension of cent a month for each day's service in the army during late war.

By Dolph—That the state of Oregon, Washington and Montana shall constitute the tenth judicial circuit with a new circuit judge; also a bill for forfeiture of part of the Northern Pacific grant, also to repeal the pre-emption and timber culture laws; also appropriating $1,000 000 to enable the secretary of war to purchase necessary sites for fortifications at points where such sites have not been purchased or acquired.

By Mitchell—Appropriating $2,000,000 for construction of a boat railway at The Dalles and Celilo falls and at Three and ten mile rapids, on the Columbia river, Oregon.

By Wilson (Iowa) amending the interstate commerce act so as to provide that any article of commerce the manufacture and sale of which is prohibited in any state, shall not be transported and delivered within the state by any transportation company.

By Reagan—Giving all holders of silver bullion of the value of $50 or more the privilege of having the bullion coined into silver dollars on the same terms as gold.

Cameron introduced the subsidy steamship bill introduced by him in the last congress.

Dolph introduced a bill providing for fortifications and other sea coast defences as recommended by the board appointed by President Cleveland to select ports at which fortifications are most urgently needed. Among ports selected are San Francisco, the lake ports, New Orleans, Galveston, Portland, Or. and San Diego. The bill appropriates for the purpose $126 577 800 to be expended over a period of twelve years. Guns for batteries on the Pacific coast may be constructed at a government gun factory to be erected on that coast at a cost of not to exceed a million dollars.

Carey introduced a bill for disposal of all public lands of the United States in California, Oregon, Colorado, Nevada, Washington, Montana, North and South Dakota, and in the states that may be formed out of the territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Alaska, and which shall not have been otherwise disposed of or reserved before acceptance of this act by the states and ratification by congress. It provides that those lands shall be ceded the states and territories in which the lands lie, on condition that the states shall convey not more than eighty acres susceptible to remunerative irrigation to any one settler. If the state shall elect to sell the lands, the proceeds shall be used for the irrigation of such lands as may be made remuneratively productive. If the land is given to settlers it is to be taxed and the proceeds applied to irrigation purposes.

Senator Manderson introduced a bill in accordance with the recommendations of the secretary of war to increase the efficiency of the infantry of the army. Each regiment shall be composed of twelve companies with one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, three majors, one adjutant and one quartermaster. The bill also provides that the number of enlisted men of the army shall be increased to 30 000.

By Paddock—For postoffice buildings in towns where the postoffice receipts exceed $3,000 a year.

By Wilson of Iowa—Subjecting imported liquors to the provisions of the laws of the several states.

By Davis—Granting pensions to ex soldiers and sailors incapacitated for manual labor and to dependent relatives.

By Mitchell—To prohibit objectionable foreign immigration, encourage desirable immigration and defend American labor; also for admission of Idaho as a state.

The senate then proceeded to executive business and soon adjourned.

PROTECTION TO SHEEP.

Speech of Columbus Delano at the Wool-Growers' Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—At the national wool growers meeting a committee to prepare an address to the wool growers of the United States was appointed. Columbus Delano of Ohio, president of the national association delivered the annual address. He said both food and clothing should be raised at home, not purchased from abroad when the people who consume them have facilities for their production. "Influenced by the act of 1883," he continued, "wool growing languishes throughout the United States, and without relief must soon perish. The Texas wool clip of 188 was valued at $ 928 234, in 1887 it was $5 0 674 showing a loss of $4,211,560. Is it desirable to extinguish the industry best adapted to this vast section under the era of free trade or free wool? Under the influence of the act of 1883 our annual clip has been reduced 35 000 000 pounds, while it should have increased at the rate of 2 per cent annually to keep pace with the natural growth of the country. Those who favor free trade as our true policy add no protest against free wool. If it be free trade let us have it as a system pure and simple without the adulteration of duplicity under the disguise of incidental protection. Let us choose one or the other and have an economic policy that is entitled to an honest and correct name. A tariff for revenue with incidental protection is a delusion and a fraud. We need a national policy on this subject, honestly named protection, let it be general and uniform, embracing all American industries that can be profitably pursued by our people."

At the conclusion of the address, the meeting adjourned and the delegates in a body called on the president and Secretary Rusk. Their brief interview with the president, as well as that with the secretary of agriculture, is said to have been of a very satisfactory character.

THE SETTLER WON HIS LAND.

Quarter Section Near Tacoma, Worth $100 000, Lost by the Northern Pacific

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—Commissioner Groff, of the general land office, has rendered a decision in the cases of John Fleet, James DeLacy and John Algyer vs the Northern Pacific Railroad Company involving a quarter section near Tacoma. The tract is within the primary limits of the Northern Pacific grant. Fleet settled upon the land under the pre-emption laws in the spring of 1869, made the necessary improvements, and in the fall of 1870 went to the local land office and made final proof, but the register refused to his entry, declaring that the land belonged to the railway company. Fleet left the land and has not since lived upon it. In 1882 Algyer moved upon the land and built a house, but he has not resided there since 1884. In 1886 DeLacy settled upon the land, and has since resided continuously and made valuable improvements.

The commissioner's decision reinstates Fleet in his rights under the act of March 3 1887, holding his abandonment involuntary, and allows him to complete his entry. The commissioner also holds that neither Algyer nor DeLacy can have any claim to the land, for, unless Fleet is entitled to it, it must inure to the railroad company under its grant. The land is said to be worth $100 000.

SUCCESSOR TO STANLEY MATTHEWS

Circuit Judge Brewer, of Kentucky, Promoted to the Supreme Bench.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The president to-day nominated Justice David J Brewer, of Kentucky, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States.

David J Brewer is about 50 years old, and a native of Smyrna, Asia Minor. His father, Rev Josiah Brewer, was a missionary to that country when the justice was born, but returned to this country when David was 3 years old. The appointee graduated from Yale college, by a strange coincidence in the same class with Judge Brown, of Detroit and John Mason Brown of Kentucky, both of whom were prominently named in connection with the appointment. After years of study of law in New York city, Brewer removed to Kansas, where he early took a prominent place in his profession. He served two terms of six years on the bench of the supreme court of that state, and had entered on his third term when President Arthur appointed him judge of the eighth judicial circuit, to succeed George W. McCreary.

Justice Brewer is a nephew of Justice Stephen Field, his mother having been a member of the famous Field family. The appointment is generally well received.

THE NEW MINISTER TO RUSSIA.

Harrison of Philadelphia a Bright man as Well as a Millionaire

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—C C Harrison of Philadelphia is probably to be appointed minister to Russia. Senators Quay and Cameron say they know nothing about it, and the only thing Postmaster-General Wanamaker had to say was to wonder how it got out. Harrison is a college professor, though it is claimed that he is interested in a sugar refinery in Philadelphia.

BILLS BASED ON SILVER

Windom's Plan of Restoring the White Metal.

NOTES FOR BULLION DEPOSITS

Full Legal Tender, Redeemable in Bars or Dollars.

AT THE MARKET RATE OF SILVER

Payable in Gold at the Treasury's Option—Safeguard Against Inflation—Silver Democrats Denounce the Proposition.

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—In his annual report Secretary of the Treasury Windom discusses the silver question at great length, and makes the following recommendation in place of the various proposed plans as to increased or free coinage of silver dollars.

"The issue of treasury notes against a deposit of silver bullion at the market price of silver when deposited, payable on demand in such quantities of silver bullion as will equal in value at the date of presentation the number of dollars expressed on the face of the notes at the market price of silver, or in gold, at the option of the government or in silver dollars, at the option of the holder. Repeal of the compulsory features of the present coinage act."

GOLD THE STANDARD OF VALUE.

He continues: The proposition is briefly this: To open the mints of the United States to the free deposit of silver, the market value of the same not to exceed $1 for 412.5 grains of standard silver, at the time of deposit to be paid in treasury notes, said notes to be redeemable in the quantity of silver which could be purchased by the number of dollars expressed on the face of notes at the time when presented for payment, or in gold at the option of the government and to be receivable for customs, taxes and all public dues, and when so received they may be re-issued, and such notes when held by any national banking association shall be counted as part of its lawful reserve.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF RECEIPT.

"The secretary of the treasury should have discretionary power to suspend temporarily receipts of silver bullion for payment in notes when necessary to protect the government against combinations formed for the purpose of giving an arbitrary and fictitious price to silver. If the price of silver should advance between the date of issue of the note and its payment, the holder of the note would receive a less quantity of silver than deposited but if the exact quantity which could be bought in the market with the number of gold dollars called for by his note at the date of payment of the note should decline, he would receive more silver than he deposited, but the quantity which could be purchased with the number of gold dollars called for by his note at the time presented for payment.

ADVANTAGES OF THE MEASURE

"The advantage of retaining the option to redeem in gold is three-fold. First, it would give additional credit to the notes; second it would prevent withdrawal and redeposit of silver for speculative purposes; third, it would afford a convenient method of making change when the weight of silver bars does not correspond with the amount of the notes."

Among the advantages which the secretary claims for the measure are that it would bring into use all the money metal of the country, it would give a paper currency not subject to undue or arbitrary inflation or contraction, it would enhance the value of silver and open the way to its free coinage and gold would be relieved of part of the work required of it. It would meet the wants of those desiring a larger volume of circulation and it would be advantageous to silver producers. The secretary gives many facts and figures tending to support the position taken by him.

SUBSIDIES TO MAIL STEAMERS.

Secretary Windom devotes considerable space to the deplorable condition of our merchant marine and makes some of the recommendations contained in the president's message. He says: "Our farmers and mechanics are practically excluded from the markets of the world, except as they may be reached by circuitous routes prescribed for their own advantage and convenience by our great competitors in those markets. Overwhelming public sentiment demands that this humiliation and loss shall cease. If our industrial interests are to prosper, if our commerce is to be sustained, extended and increased we must cease to be dependent upon any other nation or people for access to foreign markets. American vessels running between San Francisco and Asiatic ports and receiving a mail compensation of only $14,446 a year have to compete with the subsidized ships of England and other countries and especially with a new line recently established for the express purpose of preying upon our commerce, both on land and sea. This latest and boldest attack on our transportation interests is backed by subsidies of $300 000 per annum on a line between Vancouver in British Columbia and Japan, and $500 000 per annum on the Atlantic line between Liverpool and St. Johns, New Brunswick. The railroad which forms the connecting link between these two steamer lines and thus gives a through route from Liverpool to China, has been aided to the extent of $160,000,000.

During the last fiscal year we paid to foreign steamers for carrying our mails $396,583 and to our own steamers only $100,858.

The ordinary revenues of the government for the year ending June 30 were $387,050,058, expenditures, $105,0 313.

IMMIGRATION OF CHINESE.

On the subject of immigration he recommends that, in view of the disputes as to the jurisdiction of national and state authorities, the entire business relating to immigration be assumed by the general government. The existing laws for the exclusion of Chinese laborers have been vigorously enforced by the officers of customs to the extent of their ability, but the extensive frontiers of the Union facilitate clandestine introduction of such persons from the contiguous territories of British America and Mexico. The alleged evasions of the law in this regard are of serious character. The department is employing limited means to prevent such evasions, but to police these frontiers in such a manner as to completely suppress the influx will require a much greater force than has been provided for. The attention of congress is invited to this subject.

The results of the practice of landing Chinese at Pacific coast ports under bond and by means of the process of habeas corpus have been such as to attract the attention of local officers of customs at these ports, and to awaken their solicitude for the integrity of the law. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that a lucrative though illicit industry has sprung up in these ports, based upon abuse of the machinery of justice, whereby and by means of bribery, perjury, the allotment of exorbitant fees and other forms of deception and fraud, Chinese laborers are given the character of lawful immigrants, and are thus illegally added to the population of the country. Conformably to the opinion of the attorney general the transit of Chinese laborers from one foreign place to another through the territory of the United States is permitted under the statute, the regulations heretofore governing such transit have been continued, but have been strengthened in various particulars to prevent their conversion to unlawful purposes.

BLAND ATTACKS WINDOM'S PLAN.

Good Thing for the Mineowner, but Not for the People

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—Secretary Windom's report on the silver question has not been generally read by the senators and representatives and even those who have read it are not prepared to give opinions without more careful consideration. The majority of the silver men seem pleased with the general proposition.

Representative Bland, of Missouri, has already attacked it vigorously. He claims that it will result in calling in the present certificates and the issuance of bullion certificates in their place, that it will furnish the large silver mines a market for their product, but will not benefit the people who want silver used as a circulating medium; that it places in the hands of the secretary greater power than was ever contemplated, and that should a secretary be selected who was not perfectly honest, he could manipulate the market to the detriment of the financial interests of the country.

He thinks the Bland stripe will generally oppose the recommendation. The fact that the president has thrown the scheme upon the secretary has caused the republicans to give expression to their opinion, and such opinions as have been given have been qualified by "ifs" and suppositions as to what the secretary really meant.

GOSSIP OF WASHINGTON

Mr. Hermann's River and Harbor Prospects Excellent.

ADMISSION OF IDAHO LIKELY

Nobody Opposes Its Claim for Statehood—Opening of Northwestern Headquarters at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Dec 4—Representative Hermann has been doing much quiet work for his state in the department since his arrival. He says his congressional experience has taught him that it is not the talking member who is generally the most successful in legislation, but rather the politic, persistent and yet the quiet worker. The volume of national legislation is now so vast in magnitude and so varied in details that the congress at large must defer almost exclusively to committee report as a basis for action. Without a favorable report it is almost an impossibility to secure the passage of a bill. To be represented in the proper committee is therefore of great importance to one's state and now more than ever.

Mr Hermann was foremost in his support of Mr. Reed, the successful candidate for speaker. They were closely associated in the last congress, having occupied adjoining seats. It was them, Carter of Montana and McKenna of California that Mr Reed relied upon as his reserve force in the extreme West to elect. Mr Hermann will seek a place on the committee of rivers and harbors where he claims he can be of greater service to his state than through any other committee. Wilson of Washington, and Carter of Montana, will both favor this assignment. The former will seek a place on the public lands committee and the latter on coinage, weights and measures.

Delegate Dubois of Idaho has been making a canvass of members of both houses on the question of the admission of the Union of Idaho and Wyoming. He confidently expects favorable action on his bill from both houses. All the candidates for a place on the committee on territories in the house favor early admission. The senate committee is also favorably disposed. Speaker Reed, it is understood, is decidedly in favor of early admission, and President Harrison stands in the same position he took when as a member of the senate he made his report on Dakota's admission. Mr Dubois has his bill prepared, and will introduce it on the first bill day.

The Northwestern headquarters were opened to-night. Three large rooms at No 1331 F street, a block from the treasury building, have been elegantly fitted up and are to be kept open for the entertainment of visitors from the Northwest from this time on. The delegations from North and South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon are backing the enterprise.

Senator Mitchell added to the flood of bills introduced to-day. Mitchell introduced all the bills outlined in THE OREGONIAN several weeks since. The Dalles boat railway bill asks for an appropriation of $2,000,000.

The first bill introduced in the senate came from Senator Sherman, and was aimed at trusts. It is identical with the anti-trust bill reported by him last year from the committee on finance. It declares all trusts unlawful, gives persons power to recover in the courts whenever articles are advanced in value by combination, and declares the officers of trusts guilty of misdemeanors.

Senator Pierce had no more than got settled in his seat after being sworn in before he began introducing bills. One provides for the appropriation of $35 00 to reimburse the state of North Dakota for expenses in holding a constitutional convention. This amount is in excess of $20 000 appropriated in the omnibus bill. The other bill appropriates $464 51 to reimburse Colonel C A Lounsberry for expenses incurred while he was postmaster at Bismarck.

Senators Squire and Allen of Washington did not introduce any bills yesterday. The bills introduced by Senators Dolph and Mitchell cover so many of their interests that they will investigate them before drawing up bills affecting anything but Washington in a local way.

DROWNED WITH HER SORROWS

Suicide of a Young Lady Telegraph Operator in Sacramento

SACRAMENTO Dec 4—Miss Jattie B Donahue, a young lady who has been employed for a year past as an operator in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, committed suicide late this afternoon by jumping into the Sacramento river from the high trestle bridge. Miss Donahue was an expert operator, and has held good positions in San Francisco, Virginia City and Reno, Nev. She left a note to Mrs Swift, the lady with whom she lived, stating that her life was not an enviable one, and that she had chosen the easiest way to end her trouble. She left the telegraph office shortly after 6 o'clock, employing a messenger boy to escort her to the bridge, as she did not know its location. She was apparently in good spirits and bid the other employes a pleasant good night as she was leaving.

Arriving at the center of the bridge she gave the messenger two letters to mail and a note to be delivered to Mrs. Swift, with whom she resided. It is evident that she jumped into the water as soon as the boy was out of sight.

Parties on the river bank heard the splash in the water and concluded that some one had jumped or fallen into the river, and attempted to secure a boat, but none could be had. A couple of hours later the body was found about two blocks below where Miss Donahue had plunged in. No one about the telegraph office appears to know what the young lady's troubles were, but Mrs Swift says she knows all about them, though she refuses to tell. She says, however, that the girl's life had been [illegible].

OLD SLEUTH IN THE OPIUM CITY

San Francisco Smugglers Elude Him—He Goes to Puget Sound

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 4—Special Customs Agent Brooks, who arrived here from Washington over a month ago to make a raid on smuggled opium and break up the local smuggling ring if possible, is much disgusted with the results so far obtained. He has been in the employ of the treasury department for a quarter of a century, and is a detective having few equals in the service. He came here under instructions from the treasury department to make the most thorough search for opium on incoming Chinese steamers. He was here for several weeks before he made himself known to Collector Phelps or any of the local customs officials. Then he introduced himself and the customs officials worked zealously with him, but without success.

Speaking of this to-day Brooks said: "They tell me there is enough opium in storage in San Francisco to meet the demands of consumers for next year. I am inclined to believe the smuggling ring, if there is a ring here, got wind of the government's intention at an early hour and took precautions to have all operations stopped for the time being. This leads me to believe that the opium smugglers are resting on their oars, merely watching the action of the government, and will not attempt to renew their tactics until the government ceases its present activity." Brooks will remain in the city some days longer and will then go up North to see what the smugglers are doing in the way of bringing contraband opium across the Canadian border.

WARD POLITICIAN SENT TO JAIL

Chief of Police Cuddy, of Los Angeles, Convicted of Jury Bribing

LOS ANGELES Dec 4—In the United States district court before Judge Ross this afternoon the jury in the case of Ex-Chief of Police Thomas J Cuddy, on trial for embracery, returned a verdict of guilty.

Cuddy's offense was committed in February last, at the time of trial of W. More Young of Fresno, who was convicted of violating the revenue laws. While the latter's case was pending it was reported to the court that Cuddy had attempted to bribe Robert McGarvin, who had been summoned as a juror in the case. Judge Ross at once summoned Cuddy and after the hearing committed him to the county jail for six months for contempt of court. Cuddy served the term and on being released was indicted for embracery and perjury. He will now serve a second term of imprisonment, with the indictment for perjury still hanging over him. From the first the case has attracted unusual attention owing to the prominence of the defendant. Cuddy has served two terms as chief of police and has been a member of the city council, and for years a central figure in local politics.

ESCAPED FROM SIBERIA

An Educated Russian Reaches America After Eighteen Years' Imprisonment

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 4—An Examiner special from Ottawa, Ont, says: A dispatch received from Vancouver, B C, to-day states that on the steamship Batavia there arrived at that port from Japan a Russian gentleman who had just escaped from Siberia, where he had been in exile eighteen years. The gentleman, who had assumed the name of Brant, was eighteen years ago editor of a newspaper in Russia. He was no nihilist, but his liberal views as expressed in his paper displeased the government, and for the offense he was sentenced for life to Siberia. For six years he was in solitary confinement, and after that he was twelve years on parole, going from place to place.

A few months ago he drifted to the seacoast. There he found a British ship, and explaining the circumstances to the officers he was taken on board and landed at Nagasaki. There his passage was paid on the Batavia by new found friends. On arriving at Vancouver the officers of the Batavia presented him with a ticket to Washington City, for which place he started at once. Brant is 45 years of age, but his long suffering has made him prematurely older.

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS

The Jessup Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 4—Acting on the affidavit of General Barnes, attorney for Richard Pace Jessup, Chief Justice Beaty of the supreme court issued an order to-day for appellants in the matter of the estate of Gershorn P Jessup, deceased, to show cause on the 9th of December why the decision of the supreme court rendered November 30 should not be set aside and annulled on the ground that the same was improvidently rendered and without color of law. The decision of November 30, which caused a deal of comment, reversed the former judgment of the supreme court awarding the estate in question to Richard Pace Jessup, the illegitimate—but it is said duly recognized—son of Gershorn P Jessup, deceased. The estate is valued at $160 000.

THE FIRST BILL PASSED

Washington Legislature Begins to Move Faster.

SUPREME COURT PRINTING JOB

Prayer of the Oyster Farmers—Mr Herron and the Printing Office—Another Agricultural College Bill

OLYMPIA Dec 4—The first bill to pass both branches of the legislature was introduced by Judson of Whatcom, appropriating $100 000 to pay the expenses of the legislative session. The senate considered it in committee of the whole this afternoon and then passed it. Both houses are now in [illegible] business.

There was a hot fight in the house this afternoon on the report of the judiciary committee recommending the passage of Geoghegan's bill, which provides for the publication of the supreme court reports. It was in the interest of the Bancroft-Whitney Company of San Francisco and Grant Brown of Spokane. McElroy and Hughes pounded upon it unmercifully, while Herron, Geoghegan, Kuhn, Clark, Eddy, Hungate, Meade and Judson of Pierce defended it as a square measure and a business proposition. At one stage of the debate Geoghegan admitted that the bill was probably what the printing companies wanted, still it was a business proposition.

Mr Sanford, the agent of Bancroft, Whitney & Co, has been lobbying for the bill for several days. It authorizes the attorney general, secretary of state and reporter of the supreme court to award a ten year contract for the publication of the reports, at an expense not to exceed $4 50 per volume, the state to take three copies of each volume.

At the beginning of the discussion Hughes declared that if the bill put the printing outside of the state he would fight it. Brown of Spokane came near hitting the nail on the head when he said: "The bill smacked of a combination between a San Francisco printing company and the lawyers of the state." Plummer declared that if any one was lobbying for the bill he knew nothing of it.

Grant's motion to recommit the bill was then voted down—3 to 25. After another long discussion Grant moved to strike out the ten year provision. The motion was lost—8 to 26.

Weatherford's motion to make the bill the special order for 3 P M to-morrow was also defeated—35 to 7. Then the house refused to adjourn.

Hughes now offered an amendment to section 1 requiring the work to be done in Washington, and Eddy an amendment to the amendment requiring the contract to be awarded to the lowest bidder. Geoghegan moved to indefinitely postpone the amendment. Lost—39 to 2.

Pending the question the house finally accepted the motion to adjourn until 1:30 P M to-morrow.

The judiciary committee of the house and senate have decided that it is necessary to take a separate vote on emergency clauses, and that emergencies should be expressed in full instead of being declared to exist. Pickrell provoked a discussion by moving to take a vote on the emergency clause of Geoghegan's bill to provide for the payment of members of the legislature. Speaker Feighan, being appealed to, gave it as his opinion that the passage of the bill carried the emergency clause with it, and a separate vote was therefore unnecessary.

Chairman Herron of the judiciary committee said section 31, article 2, of the constitution was capable of two constructions, therefore it was thought best to have a separate vote on the emergency clause. The verbal report of the committee was adopted and the vote taken.

There was a big row brewing when the house met this morning. It was all brought about by Herron's statement yesterday morning that the State Printing Company had been slow in printing his bill to establish a state reform school. Rich, chairman of the printing committee, opened the proceedings by rising to a question of privilege. He said the committee had been put in an embarrassing position by unauthorized persons who had gone to the state printing office and tampered with bills. He then read the following letter:

OLYMPIA, Dec 4.

To Hon Francis Rich, Chairman House Printing Committee—Dear Sir—As there seems to be quite a clash of authority in connection with the printing for your honorable body I write for information. Chairmen of committees and authors of bills assume the right to read proof and to make changes after the bills have passed into the printer's hand and are ready for the press, all of which is very embarrassing and materially retards the work of this office. An instance: H B No 17 was in type last Saturday evening, but owing to the non-appearance of a committee clerk who had demanded the proof sheets, was not put on the press until late Monday night. After the proof had been read by copy, a revise taken and corrected, the author of the bill, Mr Herron of Lewis, again went over the revise and marked in some words which were not in the bill. Had I been present such changes would not have been permitted.

Will you please inform me who, if any one beside your committee and the chief clerk, have authority to order printing or to revise and correct the same, or to receipt for and take bills from this office. An early reply will place me under renewed obligations. Your friend, O C WHITE,
Manager State Printing and Pub Co.

Herron explained that the changes made consisted in the substitution of the words "superior judge" for "county judge" as the person vested with authority to appoint a guardian ad litem for friendless children.

Shaw asked if it was customary for members of a legislature to go to a printing office and make corrections in bills without consulting anybody.

Speaker Feighan was of the opinion that all amendments to bills should be made in the house and in the proper way.

Judson of Pierce thought this incident ought to be a warning to members not to change bills after their introduction, unless by amendment in open session. "Mr Herron," he said, "no doubt did this inadvertently, and should be excused for his lack of experience, but in a court of law such an act would be deemed a very serious offense."

It looked now as if the row would be smoothed over. The house was proceeding to other business when Brown, of Spokane, gave it a fresh start. "It is very evident that the house has been offended," he said, "and I move that Mr Herron be brought before the bar of the house and reprimanded."

Speaker Feighan hoped Brown would not insist on his motion. Grant moved to lay the motion on the table.

Herron hoped the house would consider the motion and give him a fair show, and if he had done wrong to reprimand him. He said he simply corrected what he considered was a clerical error. He said that the printed bill was simply a tabulated statement of the contents of the original bill and was not before the house. Herron said he knew the source of the attack upon him. It came, he said, from persons who did not like what he had said yesterday. He said he stood on his own merits and asked no favors from the public printer or his friends.

Brown insisted that his motion was proper and that the proper way to squelch such business was to punish the first offender. He said he had heard that it was a common occurrence for members of the legislature to prowl around the printing office at unseemly hours, and he thought a stop should be put to it. Brown's motion was laid on the table.

Another agricultural college bill showed up in the house this morning. It was introduced by Day and appoints J A Williams, of Kittitas, Levi Ankeny, of Walla Walla and E C Miller of Pierce county, as a commission to select a ground which shall not contain less than 160 acres. The bill provides that no state money shall ever be appropriated for the college, which is to be run on the proceeds of the sale of 90 000 acres of land granted by the government.

Foster presented the following petition in the house this morning:

To the Honorable House of Representatives of Washington in Olympia Assembled: We citizens and oyster raisers of Shoalwater bay would earnestly petition your honorable body that: Whereas, a great industry has been built up by the oyster raisers of the bay and through the oyster traffic; whereas, we have been taxed from year to year on oyster land held by us for planting purposes; whereas, the oyster raisers have carefully guarded and preserved the natural oyster beds now existing in Shoalwater bay, therefore we pray that such laws may be enacted:

"First, that each person now holding oyster lands in the state shall have prior right to purchase the same at a fair government land price, to the amount of 160 acres.

"Second, that all lands now known and designated as natural oyster beds shall be for public use and that the territorial laws now governing and protecting the same may be embodied in our state laws."

The petition bears thirty signatures.

Representative Meade's bill for the establishment of a uniform system of public schools introduces the Indiana system and is the same as the senate bill.

J C Stratton of Seattle has consented to be a candidate for district attorney of King county, and the delegation will urge Governor Ferry to appoint him. A petition is being circulated in his behalf.

THE CODE A GOOD ONE

Result of Examination by the Legislative Committee

OLYMPIA Dec 4—The joint code committee met to-night and heard the reports of the several members among whom the report of the territorial code commission had been distributed for review. It was the opinion of the committee that the code contained numerous good points, and would prove an excellent foundation upon which to build a more comprehensive work. During the meeting Judge Houghton moved that Judge Kuhn be authorized to segregate the political code and introduce it in the form of bills. The motion was withdrawn because the committee was not in a position to consider it, and another meeting will be held next Monday evening.

Senator Houghton reported that he had found many things in the practice act which met with his view and many that did not. "I do not like the method prescribed for the beginning of civil suits," he said. "I don't think judgments by default should be entered in justices' courts. The main question before us is whether we like the California code of procedure, which seems to be used here. I think there is a great deal in the code that could be utilized by the legislature, but I am not prepared to make a motion that it be adopted so that it be printed."

Representative Herron, who examined the penal code, said: "The work I take to be a good compilation. The serious objection I take to it is that it is not worked out properly. It gives references to a great many codes which I would have to have before me in order to make anything out of it. I am of the opinion, however, that this work on criminal law by Mr Shively is a valuable work. He seems to have exercised good judgment in giving his definitions of crimes. I think it would be very handy in the hands of a revision committee."

Senator Thompson, who had the poor laws, the mining laws, water rights and the coal mining laws, said he was not able to report. He said he knew nothing about water rights, nothing about precious metals except to spend them when he got them, and as for poor laws he had been practicing under them many years. He was not in favor of printing the several codes, which he thought were good suggestions for a well trained lawyer to merge into a code. He thought one lawyer could do this work better than the legislature could.

Representative Pickrell had the laws on medicine and surgery, dentistry, boards of health and townsites. He thought the law on medicine and surgery was strict and good, that on townsites fair, that on pharmacy good, likewise that on boards of health. He thought if wise laws were adopted the state would have good statutes on the subjects treated.

Kuhn's portion related to state offices. He thought it was imperfect, but if the code committee should set to work it could not draft a better law. He thought the salary of $1 00 for the clerk of the supreme court was too small. The legislative apportionment, he said, was the same as provided by the constitution.

Representative Hutchinson had the corporation code, which, so far as he had been able to judge, was satisfactory.

Judge Isham, one of the code commissioners, returned the second volume of the political code completed, with the exception of the act requiring the registration of voters, which he has drafted but forgot to bring with him.

PROTECTION OF FISH IN RIVERS.

Regulation of Salmon-Catching—No Sawdust in Front Streams

OLYMPIA Dec 4—Senator Seaborg to-day introduced a bill to protect salmon and other fishes, of which the following is a summary:

Section 1—It shall not be lawful to take or fish for salmon in the Columbia river or its tributaries by any means in any year hereafter, between the first day of March and the tenth day of April, or between the tenth day of August and the eleventh day of September, and also during the weekly close time—that is to say, between the hours of 6 o'clock P M on each and every Saturday and 6 o'clock in the afternoon of the following Sunday—and any person or persons fishing for or catching salmon in violation of this section, by catching salmon or purchasing salmon unlawfully caught, or having in his or their possession any such salmon, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof be fined in a sum not less than $50 nor more than $250.

Sec 2—It shall be unlawful to catch, kill or in any manner destroy salmon on or within one mile below any rack or other obstruction erected across any river or stream for the purpose of obtaining fish for propagation, and any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec 3—It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to take or fish for salmon on the waters of Shoalwater bay and the rivers with their tributaries flowing into said bay, and also on the waters of Gray's harbor and the rivers, with their tributaries, flowing into said Gray's harbor, from the 15th day of November until the 15th day of December during any year hereafter.

Sec 4—It shall not be lawful for any pound net, set net, trap, wire, wier or fixed appliance for taking fish to extend more than one third of the way across the bed of any stream at the time and place of such fishing.

Sec 5—It shall not be lawful to cast or pass, or allow to be cast or passed, into any of the rivers or streams of this state in which salmon or trout are [illegible]

Sec 6 [illegible] obstructions across streams [illegible] with a [illegible] fishway or ladder. [illegible] are prohibited from casting their waste into the streams [illegible] for the purpose of catching or killing fish.

TERMINUS AT SEATTLE

Northern Pacific Buys the Puget Sound Shore Road.

THE QUEEN CITY MUCH PLEASED

Both the Manitoba and Northern Pacific to Tap the Kootenai Country—The Grand Ronde Development

SEATTLE Dec 4—Manager J A Nadeau of the Puget Sound Shore road said to-day that the executive board of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company at a meeting held yesterday had taken the first preliminary step toward the purchase of the Puget Sound Shore road. It has been generally known since last August that such a transfer was contemplated, but it has not been formally made. There will be a meeting of the Puget Sound Shore road in a few days to arrange this other side of the bargain, and the formal transfer will be made in the latter part of this month. The consideration will be about $1 000 000.

The Puget Sound Shore road is twenty three and one half miles long, and the transfer will be made by the Oregon Transcontinental Company, which owns all the stock of the road, which will be made over to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company when the bargain is finally consummated.

When the transfer is completed the title of the Puget Sound Shore road will be abandoned and Seattle will become the terminal point of the Northern Pacific, of which the present line will be the last division. Arrangements looking to the change have been made from time to time in the way of securing through cars and better passenger service for the public when the road should become part of a transcontinental line from the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean. There has also been an equalization of rates generally and preparation of freight schedules looking to the change.

When the line is formally taken the probabilities are that car and machine shops will be put up here. There will be several changes in the management, but Manager Nadeau could not state what they would do.

ACROSS THE KOOTENAI

Route of the Manitoba to Spokane—Northern Pacific Also.

SPOKANE FALLS Dec 4—Paul Schulze, land agent of the Northern Pacific railway, is authority for the statement that as soon as work can be commenced his road will commence the construction of a branch line from Kootenai station, Idaho, to Bonner's ferry, thus tapping the great waterway. A large corps of surveyors are in the Kootenai country at work for the Manitoba. Late arrivals say the line will go by way of Flathead lake, down the Kootenai river to Bonner's ferry and from that point to Spokane Falls. It is thought the Missoula route has been abandoned.

PAYING FOR BURNED CROPS

Union County Railroads Expensive—The New O R & N R etc.

UNION, Or, Dec 4—The O R & N Co is settling claims for losses by fire on the line of road during last fall. The aggregate of losses amounts to considerable, and claims amounting to nearly $20 000 have already been paid, and many more are to be settled. Fred Nodine, a prominent stockman, has a claim for $15 000, and the others run from $100 to thousands of dollars.

The present route of the road proves a costly one for the company. It is rumored that it is proposed to change the line so as to take in Union, Island City and then direct to the mouth of Grand Ronde canyon. Should this be done Island City will become a prominent place in the valley and a general shipping point for the east and west.

WALLA WALLA Dec. 4—Oregon & Washington Territory engineers leave here in the morning to locate the Hunt road from Union, Or, to this city. Active work will begin on the Hunt line as soon as possible. Everything here shows readiness and anxiety to begin operations.

SALEM TO THE SEA.

Booming the Tillamook and Astoria Railroad Vigorously

SALEM Dec 4—The talk of building a railroad from Salem to Tillamook and Astoria—Salem to the sea—has now assumed such form that some decided action will be taken at once. The citizens of Salem are in earnest, and by concerted effort will accomplish the desired end, and that at once. Large subscriptions are promised from every direction.

James Morton was brought to the penitentiary to-day from Wasco county to serve a five year term for manslaughter.

WASHOUT NEAR REDDING

Oregon and California Trains Delayed—Extraordinary Rainfall.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 4—The present storm continued last night, extending over the entire state, as well as east of the Sierra mountains. In the mountains there was a heavy snowfall in a short time, but the two big rotary snow shovels of the railroad made quick work with the track covering, so that no delays of consequence resulted.

In the Siskiyou mountains the snow became rain and down it came in torrents. At Middle creek, three miles north of Redding, a washout resulted from the heavy downpour, and about seventy feet of track was undermined and carried away. This disaster delayed the down Oregon express, due here at 7:45 A M to-day, and it did not reach here until evening. It is probable the train due to-morrow will also be delayed, as well as northbound trains.

A force of men went up from Red Bluff and the work of repair is in active progress. There has been an enormous quantity of rain in this section, and trouble was anticipated by railroad men.

At Delta, twenty-eight miles above Redding, over three feet of rain has already fallen.

Impure Blood

Is the cause of Boils, Carbuncles, Pimples, Eczema, and cutaneous eruptions of all kinds. There can be no permanent cure for these complaints until the poison is eliminated from the system. To do this thoroughly, the safest and most effective medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Give it a trial.

"For the past twenty-five years I have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In my opinion, the best remedial agencies for the cure of all diseases arising from impurities of the blood are contained in this medicine."—G. C. Brock, Druggist, Lowell, Mass.

"My wife was for a long time a sufferer from tumors on the neck. Nothing did her any good until she tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made a complete cure."—W. S. Martin, Burning Springs, W. Va.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

CAUTION
W. L. DOUGLAS' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearer against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the factory, for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. I can fit any foot that is not deformed, as my stock embraces a great variety of widths, sizes and half sizes. I guarantee a fit, prompt delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded upon return of shoes in good condition. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.
$3 SHOE FOR LADIES.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.
Is a fine seamless calf shoe, with Dongola tops and Oak Leather bottoms. They are made in Congress, Button and Lace, London Cap Toe, Narrow Cap Toe and Plain French Toe Lasts, in sizes from 5 to 11, including half sizes and in all widths. If you have been paying from $5 to $6 for shoes of this quality do not do so longer. One pair will wear as long as two pairs of common shoes sold by dealers that are not warranted by the manufacturer.
Our claims for this shoe over all other $3 shoes advertised, are:
1st. It contains better material.
2d. It is more stylish, better fitting and durable.
3d. It gives better general satisfaction.
4th. It costs more money to make.
5th. It saves more money for the consumer.
6th. It is sold by more dealers throughout the U. S.
7th. Its great success is due to merit.
8th. It can not be duplicated by any other manufacturer.
9th. It is the best in the world, and has a larger demand than any other $3 shoe advertised.
$5,000 will be paid to any person who will prove the above statements to be untrue.
The Following Lines will be found to be of the Same Quality of Excellence:
$5.00 SHOE GENUINE HAND-SEWED, which takes the place of custom-made shoes that cost from $7 to $9.
$4.00 SHOE THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY HAND-SEWED WELT $4 SHOE. Equals custom made shoes costing from $6 to $8.
$3.50 SHOE FOR POLICEMEN. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a hand sewed shoe. No tacks or wax thread to hurt the feet.
$2.50 SHOE IS UNEXCELLED FOR HEAVY WEAR. Best calf shoe for the price.
$2.25 SHOE WORKINGMAN'S. Is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.
$2.00 SHOE IS EQUAL TO SHOES THAT COST FROM $3 TO $3.50. One pair will wear longer than any shoe ever sold at the price.
$2.00 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.
$1.75 SHOE YOUTH'S SCHOOL, gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.
All made in Congress, Button and Lace.

ALBANY

THE QUEEN CITY OF THE WILLAMETTE VALLEY AND THE GREAT RAILWAY CENTER OF THE STATE OF OREGON

Twenty-six regular trains arrive and depart from Albany daily, not including construction trains and extra freights

Its shipping advantages are unequaled, as it is the junction of two great transcontinental lines, the Oregon Pacific and the Southern Pacific, and it will also be the terminus of the Albany & Astoria railroad, now in course of construction

Over one thousand men are now employed upon the extension of the Oregon Pacific railroad from Albany eastward, and, with the opening of spring this number will be increased to over five thousand

Albany is the furnishing point for the Santiam gold and silver mines, in which next year will be employed 1000 men

Albany is the county seat of Linn county, acknowledged and conceded to be the best lands in Oregon, for the production of grain, grass and fruits IT HAS NEVER BEEN BOOMED, its growth and progress depending alone on merit, has been steady and enduring

Its unexcelled water power places it in the lead of all as a manufacturing center Albany has given more assistance to outside enterprises than all other cities in Oregon combined

Twelve additions have been made to Albany and over five hundred buildings erected during the past year

Albany has a street railway system and the most complete electric light works in the state, its dynamos furnishing more lights than all the other cities of the valley combined

Look at this array of improvements for the year 1890 With a population of over 10,000 there will be built at Albany large smelting works by Eastern capitalists, a 4 story brick hotel, a 3 story brick block, to be occupied by railroad offices, largest hospital in the state, to be erected by the Sisters of Charity from Emmittsburg, Md, a paper factory, gas works and numerous other smaller institutions necessitating an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000

Besides these, the car and machine shops, round house and other buildings for the western division of the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company will be erected here

The largest and best woolen mills in the state are being built, and the machinery, which is the latest improved, will be started about Jan 1 Albany has 32 manufacturing establishments, which does not include the Grants Pass sash and door factory, with a capital stock of $150,000, soon to be removed here.

For next season plans are already being drawn for the erection of thirteen fine brick blocks, which will include some of the finest buildings in the state

The records will show that over one million dollars of real estate transfers have been made in Albany within the past ninety days, equal to all other Willamette Valley cities combined

Nearly one-half million dollars of real estate have been purchased by New York Capitalists, who are also interested in the Oregon Pacific Railroad.

Albany has the finest banks, has numerous and good schools, two kindergartens, thirteen churches, substantial public buildings, splendid water works, supplying water direct from the Cascade Mountains, excellent sewerage, a social and hospitable people, rail and water communication with the markets of the entire world and is rapidly increasing in wealth and population

If you want a home or desire to make a safe investment purchase in Albany Investments are safe and returns are sure.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE.

How a Casual Conversation Resulted in Saving the Life of a Thoughtless Young Man

Two friends were seated at a lunch table and consulting the bill of fare. One looked fresh and bright the other pale and languid After studying the bill all over the last named person said

"It's no use I have no appetite I cannot eat

His friend looked anxious

"What is the matter?" he inquired

"I don't know I have a cough in the morning a tickling in the throat difficulty in breathing my pulse is quick my breath short and I have a tightness across my chest In the evening I feel chilly during the day feverish I do not know what it means"

"My dear fellow you have the symptoms of consumption I know it because I was in the same terrible pass once myself You must do something at once"

"What can I do?" was the anxious query

"Be careful of exercise, and drink pure whiskey several times a day"

"But I have never been in the habit of drinking whiskey"

"So much the better Then it will cure you I used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for more than a year and still take it regularly I am a temperance man as you know but I am not so bigoted as to allow my health to suffer when I know what will restore and preserve it"

The above is not an imaginary conversation but actually took place substantially as narrated It is a statement of the experience of thousands of other people throughout America Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey will check consumption will prevent pneumonia will build up tissue harden the muscles and give life and color It is pure It can be procured in any part of the land but care should be exercised to secure only the genuine

Rosedale reef on which the Idaho was wrecked received its name from the loss of the emigrant ship Rosedale which was coming in from England when she struck there in 1862

D A W Borg sentenced from Umatilla county, was released from the penitentiary Tuesday, his two year term for blackmail having been served He was in prison over twenty months

About 5000 acres of coal lands have been filed on within the last nine days on the Cowlitz river, in the eastern end of Lewis and the western part of Yakima counties, say the Centralia News

Crook county exchanges deny the report that Eastern Oregon sheep raisers are disposing of their flocks in large numbers The Review says very few sheep have been sold that were driven out of the county

The Seattle Press is organizing an effort to explore the unknown region enclosed by the Olympic mountains north of Gray's harbor and proposes that the government give each member of the exploring party a section of the land discovered

"Uncle Billy" Moore who died at Milton November 27 aged 80 settled on his present place below Milton in 1860 being one of the pioneers of this valley He had since acquired considerable property and died in good circumstances

Alexander McNeil, an industrious citizen of The Dalles who has a wife and several children has been adjudged insane and sent to the asylum He has been in poor health for some time and his insanity appears to have taken a religious turn and his ravings are about affairs of the next world

And now comes the news that a town has been platted on the west side of the Willamette river from Salem to be known as West Salem, and that a strong effort will be made to make it Polk county's capital. There will be big inducements offered and some stout rustling done to accomplish that end

Hon R. A Irvine, of Linn county who was talked of as a probable gubernatorial candidate next spring authorizes a statement in the Albany Democrat that "while appreciating the good will of those who have used his name in that connection he is not a candidate for that or any other office"

Harper, who killed Ed Jones at Lexington is now in jail at Heppner He will probably die He is suffering greatly from the wounds received in his beating by the Jones brothers and is hardly able to talk. Public opinion is favorable to Harper and the general verdict appears to be that he committed the deed in self defense.

The Ochoco Review is responsible for the following A few weeks ago Mrs Phillips gave birth to a girl baby with five fingers on each hand An extra finger was attached to each of the little or last fingers and they were perfect in form Last week Dr Belknap removed the extra fingers, and the little girl is getting along nicely

A citizen's meeting was held at Spokane Falls Tuesday evening, to consider the best method of suppressing vices in that city The Review says that the vices they desire to suppress take money from its rightful channels and place it in the pockets of toughs and thieves" and this is the reason they are detrimental to a community"

Louis Tarpley, of Salem who was recently appointed United States commissioner for Unalaska received his commission Sunday and is ordered to report at Unalaska as soon as he can get there He will leave for the North about March 1 going by the way of San Francisco from which port vessels start for the Aleutian islands about that time

Thomas H Mills aged 70 an old pioneer of Grant county Oregon was killed near his home in that county by Andrew Hanson, a sheep herder Mills had been to Prairie City, where he got drunk and going home fell into a ditch Hanson coming along, thought him a wild animal and shot him several times with a Winchester before discovering his mistake

Captain John Reed informs the Aberdeen Bulletin that there is always a straight well defined channel over the Gray's harbor bar in which the depth of water is never less than eighteen feet and from that to twenty-four at extreme low tide Captain Reed has towed over 500 vessels out of Gray's harbor at all stages of the tide never meeting with an accident

Train men on the Spokane branch tell a good story on a newly married couple hailing from Colfax They were on their bridal tour, and at Garfield the bridegroom left the train and went down town When he returned the train had gone and with it his sweetheart. She was carried to Spokane Falls and at last account the young husband was chasing after his cast wife.

The present session of the Washington legislature promises to be an unusually long one and will certainly prove to be a great expense to the new state The Aberdeen Herald says "No disposition is manifested by either of the parties to shut down on the amount of gabble usually indulged in by lawmakers at the expense of their constituency and for very little value received."

The Brownsville Times has great hopes for the future and says "Let Lebanon have her paper mill and Albany her machine shops. If our mines above here are developed which seems very probable, we will be no longer a little hamlet in the foothills but a great city of wealth and influence Mr. Harnett says Brownsville has good prospects to be a city of 6000 inhabitants inside of five years "

River traffic on the Willamette was never so brisk since the railroads began to compete with the boats The interest in the business on the part of the public is all increasing, which, with the growth of commerce in the great Willamette valley, will cause still more boats to be put on the river The time will come, says the Salem Statesman, when the upper Willamette will be literally lined with boats the whole year through and the river will always be a great equalizer of freight rates. May the river crafts rapidly multiply

What! Again!

New York Sun

Here is one of the stories that A M Palmer brought back from his summer trip to Europe He overheard an animated discussion in the Victoria Hotel London between an English man and a Yankee as to citizen of the United States are called on the other side The dispute of course was relative to the merits of the dispatants respective countries It happened that the American was a bit the readier with his tongue and maintained his ground so stubbornly that the Briton at last gave it up with the remark

"Well, you Yankees are getting so bumptious that we shall have to send over an army pretty soon to take some of the conceit out of you"

The American's reply was one word "Again?"

DESPISED $20 LOTS.

"Fifteen years ago I bought some lots over the Sand Hills back of San Francisco, near what is now Golden Gate Park for $20 each

"I was laughed at as a lunatic and advised to buy over the bay at Oakland at $1000 per lot

"Time has revealed the fact that the $20 lots are away over the hills were a bonanza in fact worth much more than the Oakland lots.

"The Oakland lots have doubled in value. The others 3 4 and 6 miles out and back from the [illegible] Market street now sell for from $3000 to $10 000 per lot

"I learned a lesson from this namely Always buy on the business side of the river or bay on the highest ground reached by a motor line. It may take time to develop but as soon as made accessible by cable or motor line values will bound up to fabulous prices"

West Portland is on the right side of the river [illegible] are working on the motor line Lots are only $100 [illegible] and sell them on the [illegible] $10 [illegible] $10 per month Prices advance to $150 after January 1 Buy them now and make $50. KNAPP GAINS ONE LAP.

The Races at the Pavilion Last Night—Music by the Marine Band.

Another good crowd greeted the bicyclists at the Mechanics' Pavilion yesterday evening. The three riders—Morgan, Kennedy and Knapp—contesting for the eighteen-hour championship, did some fine work. Knapp, who had lost two laps the evening before, regained one of them, so that now he is only one lap behind. Morgan and Kennedy each made 51 miles and 10 laps last night, while Knapp made 51 miles and 11 laps.

The score to date now stands: Morgan and Kennedy 150 miles and 10 laps each, and Knapp 150 miles and 9 laps.

The riders enlivened the evening by doing considerable spurting. This is always exciting, and the spectators, as usual, gave vent to their feelings by cheering whenever their favorite attained the lead. In the finish Kennedy passed the wire first, Knapp second and Morgan third.

An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was the ten-mile race between Jessie Oaks and Kittie O'Brien. The race was won by Miss O'Brien in thirty-four minutes, showing conclusively that size and avoirdupois are no obstacles to speed. Jessie Oaks was only one length behind.

A highly appreciated acquisition to the entertainment was the Marine band, which discoursed music throughout the evening. This deservedly popular band will do the honors in the line of music hereafter every evening.

This evening, in addition to the championship race, there will be a one-mile race between Kittie O'Brien and Bert Vaneleve, and a ten-mile race between Jessie Oaks and Kittie O'Brien. There will also be athletic performances by Ed Flucard and Dana Percy, two professionals, in the center of the pavilion.

SPORTING NEWS NOTES.

Faulkner and Schumacher Sign Articles to Wrestle—Baldwin and Oaks.

J. H. Faulkner, the champion light-weight wrestler of the world, and Peter Schumacher, the Pacific coast champion, after considerable parleying, yesterday signed articles of agreement for a match, catch-as-catch-can style, two falls out of three falls, for $250 a side. The match is to come off on the 10th of this month. Choke locks are barred, and the contestants will have to wrestle to a finish. The men have already deposited $100 in the hands of A. M. Hamilton as a forfeiture.

Steps are being taken by Miss Helen Baldwin's admirers to match her against Miss Jessie Oaks for a bicycle race, to commence December 16, and to be either eight hours per day or three hours per night. The race, if one is arranged, is to be for $500 per side. Miss Oaks says either day or night racing will suit her, and promises the fair Helen a hard chase if they meet. The parties will meet Saturday night and probably post a forfeit for a race.

The boxing tournament at the Pavilion, December 13 and 14 will be a first class affair. Mr. Morgan has written to Billy Smith, the Australian champion heavy-weight, to come here and meet Dave Campbell in a scientific six-round contest on the last night. Smith is the man who badly whipped Frank Glover in the Occidental Club recently.

Morgan is bound to "get back" at Merrill in a match race. The latter will probably accept the "Senator's" defy as made known in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN, for a five mile race for $250 a side to come off in the Pavilion in about two weeks' time. Morgan awaits Merrill's pleasure and acceptance.

AT THE THEATERS.

NEW PARK THEATER.—There was a gratifying increase in the size of the audience at this house last night, and Miss Helen Blythe in "Mother's Love" held the audience with the power of her art.

Last performances of "Mother's Love" to-night, to-morrow night and at the matinee on Saturday. "The Creole" will be put on for Saturday and Sunday evenings.

NEXT WEEK.

Miss Charlotte Thompson, an actress of ability, not unknown to Portland theater-goers, will commence a three night's engagement at New Park, appearing on Monday night as "Jane Eyre." Of her performance of this interesting role an exchange says:

The Jane Eyre of Miss Charlotte Thompson is a characterization that has long been familiar to theater-goers and it is evident that time does not diminish its popularity. The actress began an engagement in the title role of the well-known play, with which she has so long been identified, at the Brooklyn theater yesterday afternoon and had the close attention of an appreciative audience throughout. Miss Thompson has the faculty of touching the hearts of her auditors. With her it is inherent talent rather than an observance of artistic detail that makes her effective, and although there are mannerisms, her palpable sympathy with the character she assumes more than atones for defects in method. The support was the best that has been seen at this house in some time. J. H. Punney as De Leon made a hit, and E. H. Stephens was amusing as Joseph. The other members of the cast discharged the duties assigned them satisfactorily.

CORDRAY'S MUSEE-THEATER.—"The Sea of Ice" continues to attract large audiences to this house, and the diversified performance in the Musee department is one of the best they have had. The play runs the remainder of the week.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, DEC. 5

A USELESS SUGGESTION

President Harrison's views on the Negro question are sound and strong on the spiritual side of making it clear that it is our duty to do something for the negro, but weak on the practical side of telling us specifically what to do.

There is only one thing that we can do through congress, that is worth trying to do, viz: Reduce the representation of those states that systematically rob the negro of his just share of representation by robbing him of his ballot either by violence or fraud.

THE OREGONIAN has more than once shown that all that congress can do that promises any good would be to enforce the fourteenth amendment against those states that by organized suppression of the suffrage, steal seats in congress.

President Harrison, to our great disappointment and surprise, declines specifically to recommend this measure but does specially commend the strengthening and enlarging of the present laws, which provide for Federal supervision of elections. This supervision extends, of course, to congressional elections, and many of our ablest jurists hold that it covers also those state elections where the legislatures elect the United States senators, but its technical scope is hardly worth discussion because it only plagues the people at the North where it is enforced and is mocked at the South, where it is invariably nullified. To extend this law as a remedy for the great wrong of the suppression of the negro's ballot, representation and other civic rights is like an effort to strengthen a broken reed. This law is a nullity at the South to-day, and it will not make it less a nullity to make it longer or shorter, to make it fuller or clearer of habit. President Harrison does not seem to grasp this fact, or is too timid to commend to congress the only practical punishment for persistence in a great public wrong on part of the South, viz: reduction of representation. In other words congress should say: "If you persist in your systematic suppression of suffrage you shall not profit by your lawlessness."

This would be simply to enforce against the South the same legal equity that we enforce when we refuse to let the criminal enjoy the fruits of his crime. We allow no man to evade or nullify a law by fraud and then claim the protection of the court for the fruits of his crime. The South has nullified the law by violence and fraud and suppressed free colored suffrage. Congress cannot prevent this crime, but congress can prevent, and its duty is to prevent, the enjoyment of the fruits of his fraud. It can say: "You committed this crime to steal these seats in congress, you have stolen them, we cannot get a verdict against you for theft, for you are all robbers and a jury will no more convict you of theft than a jury of the McGregors would have convicted Rob Roy as a cattle thief. But we can recover the stolen seats; if we cannot sit in them you shall not and your crimes shall not help feather afresh the last year's political bird's nest of the democratic party." This is what President Harrison ought to have urged upon congress, but instead of doing this he urged the extension of a law that has already proved worthless. To extend its scope would only exasperate the North and throw the South into a fit of derisive laughter. Congress would refuse to enact this amendment and if it did enact it it would be as ineffective as it would be for a panic-stricken woman to bolt her door with a boiled carrot if there was a burglar in the house.

WINDOM'S SILVER POLICY

Secretary Windom's plan as to silver, as reported in our dispatches to-day, was very fully outlined in our special reports from Washington some days ago. Objections will be made to it from opposite reasons. It will be attacked by the advocates of unlimited silver issues and it will be opposed by those who fear the consequences of an inflated currency based on silver values. And yet, upon trial, it might prove a successful solution for the present, of the silver question.

It is difficult, however, to see how we can support a double standard, with very large silver issues, so long as Europe refuses to recognize in silver a standard value. Undoubtedly we can float silver and gold together so long as silver is not so abundant as to overweigh gold, and so long as there is no flight of gold to Europe, as there would be in case of a foreign war, but if there should be a great war our gold would take to flight, and our silver certificates then would drift away from gold just as our greenbacks drifted away from gold. It may be all very well so long as there is no commercial or warlike crisis to make our exports of gold increase largely over our gold imports and domestic gold product, but an event like our civil war or a general European war, would soon put a distance between the gold and silver dollar and between the gold and silver certificates, for silver fluctuates so much more sharply than gold that it would be impossible to float silver certificates, in these circumstances, side by side with gold.

Again, it seems possible, upon unlimited purchases of silver bullion, to issue so many certificates that we should have a redundant currency based on a metal that fluctuates so sharply in value that the great commercial nations of the world reject it as a standard of value.

Against this the safeguard is provided that the secretary may suspend the purchase of bullion and the issue of certificates. But will the silver men in congress grant the secretary this power? Probably not. Without it, however, would the plan be anything more than unlimited inflation by silver certificates?

Thus it is plain that objections will be made to the plan from opposite sides. To us it appears practicable—if the discretion of the secretary as to suspension of bullion purchases shall be allowed and judiciously exercised, but perhaps this is too much to leave to the judgment of any secretary. The silver men will fear discrimination against themselves, the anti silver men will fear a flood of silver certificates that will unsettle values.

ONLY AN ALLY—NOT A FRIEND

President Harrison speaks in his message of "the traditional good feeling between this country and France." France was our ally in the Revolution because it was her interest to stab England in her American colonies just as it has been the interest of Russia in our day to threaten to stab England in her Indian empire. France was not our "friend," for when the treaty between England, France and America was in process of negotiation in 1782 France did her best to secure for herself the return of all that territory that was acquired from the English by that great man General George Rogers Clarke. Clarke's promptness in seizing the old French military posts of Kaskaskia, Vincennes and Cahokia secured to the United States Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, but after the Revolution France tried by cunning diplomacy to get these posts returned to her under the treaty, and she would have succeeded had it not been for the remonstrances of this same statesman, George Rogers Clarke, who opened the eyes of Jay and the other American representatives to the value of this great region. France was not our "friend" from 1789 to 1799 during the first French republic as the Genest quarrel testifies. Nor was France our friend under the first Napoleon, who never spared our people in his warfare with England. He sold us Louisiana because he needed money badly. Nor was France our "friend" in President Jackson's day when he had to tell that country that she must keep her word with America or take the military consequences. Nor was France our friend under Napoleon the Third, who did his best to persuade England to recognize the Southern Confederacy, and hung on our flank like a gathering storm in Mexico until the Confederacy fell and Sheridan went to the Rio Grande. No! France was our ally once but never our friend, any more than France was the friend of England when she stormed the Malakoff or the friend of Italy when she carried the height of Solferino.

SILLY PHILANTHROPY

Senator Leland Stanford, millionaire and railroad operator, who comes forward with a plan to abolish poverty, does not adopt the doctrine formulated by Henry George and endorsed by the Anti Poverty Society, the main feature of which is division of property as often as may be necessary to "equalize things." The Stanford plan is however not the more feasible one of furnishing employment to the world's workers and providing that they shall reap and enjoy the full fruits of their labors. Like Henry George, Stanford considers that poverty and want are not necessary adjuncts of human existence; unlike George, Stanford thinks that if there is want, among the industrious it is from the lack of intelligent direction and application of labor.

While this is a proposition that finds verification in the observation and experience of all men, it may be gravely doubted whether the ideal organization which Senator Stanford is said to have formulated in support of his plan will be found practicable. It presupposes a reorganization of the individual—a matter that is to say the least attended by grave difficulties. The quality which New England people call by the suggestive name of "faculty," which Western people term management, and which Micawbers of all sections denominate "luck," is not within the gift of an organization. The will of the improvident man cannot always be tempered by the judgment or controlled by the prudence of others. The heroic and unsuccessful efforts of Mr Powderly and a few of his associates in the organization of the Knights of Labor to bring the rank and file of the order up to the true standard of intelligent dignified labor is a part of the history of humane and earnest endeavor in behalf of the irresponsible and unreasonable among the working masses. Moreover, the theory of Senator Stanford that the "world's supply of comforts, necessaries, elegancies and refinements are only measured by the amount of intelligent labor that is applied to the getting of them" is one which every thriftless laborer as well as every worthless do naught would resent as an insult.

Truly we have reason "to hope for many things in the next century," but the hope that is builded upon the expectation of inaugurating a labor system that will make intelligent, sober, industrious, economical men out of a vast majority of the world's thriftless and indolent finds lodgment in the ideal, rather than the practical world. No "theory" can convert persons of no force of mind or energy of character into persons of positive force of mind and energy of character. This Mr Stanford knows well enough and from his hight of wealth he is merely juggling with the thoughtless, thriftless, idle and improvident. Individuals can help themselves. Society can't be organized to help them.

AGAINST BIMETALLISM

Robert Giffen, a celebrated English writer on all questions of finance and political economy is opposed to bimetallism without qualification. His argument is too long to be set forth in its full scope, but briefly stated, the main point is this viz: "When a community tries to keep both gold and silver in circulation as unlimited legal tender by a dual legal tender law, that metal which exchanges for the other at a less price than the legal ratio,—which is over valued by the legal ratio as the phrase is—will be used exclusively for the purpose of unlimited legal tender, and the demand for it will be the same as if it were the single unlimited legal tender of that country. There can be no interchangeability in practice between the two metals." This was the doctrine of the great English philosophers, John Locke and Sir Isaac Newton, and all the famous English economists Harris, Lord Liverpool, Adam Smith and Ricardo.

Giffen says that the experience of France between 1803 and 1873 is often referred to as showing that the two metals can circulate side by side as full legal tender. But as a matter of fact, "France never had both metals in use at the same time as full legal tender and standard money. The two metals were always in use as different kinds of token money or quasi token money, but the full legal tender was practically for one period, 1803-50, silver only and for another period 1850-73 gold only. Gold and silver were never both used as unlimited legal tender together."

John Locke argued that there could not be two standard metals, because the articles being different the two could not remain for any length of time at any given ratio but the ratio would necessarily change. And the soundness of the logic of Locke has been freshly proved by the drop of our silver dollar in bullion value from 90 cents to 70 6 cents, while gold has undergone no such fluctuation.

Gold and silver were originally coined together as a matter of convenience. Gold for large payments and silver as a subsidiary coinage for small payments, which is the way England uses gold and silver to-day—gold as the standard of value, and silver coinage simply as token money for public convenience. One metal was to be standard and the other related to the standard in such a way that while it could be used conveniently the risk of melting it down to which the undervalued metal is exposed, would be enormously lessened.

When England in 1816 adopted the single gold standard; Wellesley Pole, master of the mint, said:

> It had been the opinion of, he believed all the eminent men who had written upon the subject that there should be but one standard measure of value. Sir William Petty, Mr Locke and Mr Harris upon this point had all concurred. Mr Locke says that money as the measure of commerce ought to be kept as steadily and invariably as may be, but this cannot be if your money be made of two metals whose proportion and consequently whose price, constantly varies in respect to one another. Sir William Petty declares there can be but one of the two precious metals of gold and silver fit to be a matter of money. Mr Harris observes that only one of these metals can be the money or standard measure of commerce in any country. In later times after a further experience of the evils arising from the collision of two standards from the competition raised between the coins of the two precious metals, these opinions had been strengthened by the writings of Mr Alcorne and Dr Adam Smith, the late Lord Liverpool and lastly by the report of the bullion committee. All these authorities had agreed that the standard measure of value, the standard coin of the realm should be composed only of one of the precious metals. He believed therefore that it would be universally admitted that there should be but one standard coin of the realm, to be at once the measure and equivalent of property.

Mr Giffen points out that with the exception of the Frenchman, Sismondi, no political economist or financier of permanent consequence is a bimetallist, all the great men of the world from Locke and Newton down to Gladstone and Bismarck are mono-metallists. He sums up his argument in this statement viz:

> The general conclusions arrived at may now be very shortly repeated. The precious metals all through, whether used for monetary purposes or not, are merchandise and the ratio at which they exchange with other articles is determined in precisely the same way as the ratio between any other commodities—as the ratio for instance, between copper and wheat, or between beef and bees. The uses of gold and silver for non monetary purposes are also much greater than is commonly supposed, so that their money use is not preponderant, but in any case their use for monetary purposes does not create conditions so far as affecting the ratio of their exchange with other articles different from those which exist for other commodities themselves. The relation of quantity between money and prices is again a relation in which the determining factor is the prices, which contribute to fix the quantity of money to be used and which are not in ordinary circumstances fixed by it. The use of the precious metals as money is not unimportant with reference to the ratio at which they exchange with the other articles, because the demand for money uses enters into the whole demand, but it does not alter the character of the precious metals as merchandise. For here even when used for monetary purposes, gold and silver are different articles and there is very little, almost no interchangeability between them. The one cannot take the place of the other. Apart then from other objections to the bimetallic theory it is found to be based upon a thorough misconception of the relations between the precious metals and other commodities and the way in which a ratio is established between them, and as to the degree of interchangeability between the precious metals themselves. The theory presupposes first that there is an immense balance of the precious metals, the greater part of them left over after non monetary uses, and that prices rise or fall according as this balance increases or diminishes, and next that gold and silver as making up that balance are interchangeable with each other at any ratio governments may fix. In point of fact, the demand for the precious metals as money in various forms is one of the most imperative and first to be supplied and is also, if we exclude the hoards as not properly money, a comparatively small demand, and in it the requirements of the two metals even for money are of a totally different kind so that there is no monetary [illegible] practical interchangeability between them, and governments consequently have no more power to fix a ratio at which they will exchange with each other than they have to fix the ratio at which timber will exchange for iron. In other words bimetallism is pure delusion and nothing more.

The territory of Alaska is regarded in a general way by the people of the United States as an unprofitable and visionary venture of a far away administration, a sort of an iceberg to which the natives cling in sore distress and which furnishes a stipulated number of Federal officers with an excuse for drawing pay for an adventurous journey to the far Northwest and a residence for a few months more or less, in a region of perpetual winter. Secretary Noble in his annual report, however, introduces this region as rich in vast and varied resources and as contributing a handsome surplus to the United States treasury each year. The natives of Alaska, unlike the savages in any other portion of the United States are "self supporting," and so far from decreasing in numbers by contact with civilization the secretary is of the opinion that the census will show an increase in the native population. From the outline given of the character, habits and customs of these natives, it may be doubted whether this increase is a matter of congratulation, national or otherwise. Recommendations and suggestions looking to the improvement of these people such as common humanity dictates, are made, and if it be really true that the vices that come of contact with the sub strata of civilization are not a decimating force the report of a secretary of the interior sometime during the coming century may furnish a record of success in this line. The natives aside however, Alaska is a wonderful country, great in natural resources and presenting grand possibilities for future development.

The New York Journal of Commerce, one of the oldest trade papers in the country, has always been a journal of strong democratic proclivities. But like the New York Sun it does not share in the free trade notions that masquerade in the democratic guise of "tariff reform." Both these papers vigorously oppose the internal revenue system, regarding it as the real "war tax," and opposed in principle to the teachings and arguments of Jefferson, the patron saint of the democratic party. The Journal of Commerce has the following:

> A few reforms are imperatively demanded but these cannot be brought forward and discussed without precipitating a controversy that will prevent any amicable adjustment. The short road to peace in this matter would be, as we suggested years ago, the absolute repeal of the internal revenue system. Wipe this out and let the tariff stand as it is for the present. The revenue collected from the excise system last year was $130 000,000.

"It is desirable," says Secretary Noble, "that there should be in all cases a fair proportion between the pension and the disability on account of which it is granted." If this rule were fully established and the custom of giving pensions to persons who are amply able to live without them were abolished, the honest intent of the pension idea would be fully met. Pension reform will never be fully established as long as wealthy men, or ordinarily well to do men and men able to make a living independently of the nation's bounty crowd the pension rolls and eagerly draw a monthly stipend for having in the time of the nation's peril joined the ranks of her defenders.

Probably the best way to govern Alaska would be by a federal commission appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate. This kind of government is sufficient for the District of Columbia, it was sufficient for the great Northwest territory and Louisiana territory at one time, and it has been urged for Utah. A governor might be appointed, who should by virtue of his office be a member of this commission and its president. The commission should be composed of course of men who are familiar with Alaska and its wants, and a committee of this commission could officially appear before the committees of congress and represent the needs of the territory.

President Harrison recommends mail subsidies for ocean steamship lines. This is to become a feature of republican policy that will fitly go with protection of the industry of the country, with improvement of rivers and harbors, with erection of fortifications for national defense, with creation of an adequate navy, with erection of necessary public buildings at important points and with general development of the industries and commerce of the country. It is a policy to be put in contrast with the democratic policy of inertia and mossbackism.

Yesterday, through inadvertence, THE OREGONIAN omitted to give the Western Union Telegraph Company credit for carrying the president's message and delivering it to the press of the country. No more rapid or excellent work was ever done in the history of telegraphy. The message was a gift by the Western Union to the press of the country and it was no small matter as it involved the handling at many points of a document that contained fifteen thousand words.

The Descent to Silver.

San Francisco Alta.

We are nearly upon a silver currency basis now. Within the year we lost $1 000 000 in national bank notes and $6 000 000 in gold currency and gained $30 000 000 in silver and silver certificates. This is getting down to silver faster than many think.

Useless Protest.

St. Louis Post Dispatch Dem.

If plutocracy disguised as democracy secures another Ohio senatorship—if the prize goes to any man whose role in politics is that of a boiler or representative of corporations or to any man whose prominence as a democrat is notoriously due to his "barrel" rather than to his character and popularity as a teacher and champion of democratic principles—the recent victory in Ohio will be a worse thing for the party, there and elsewhere, than was its defeat in the national election last fall. Ohio democracy will again disgrace itself and then fully [illegible] the party at large if it fails to honor with the senatorship Judge Thurman or some other democratic leader to whose skirts no taint of bribery or plutocracy can cling.

THE FRUITS OF PROTECTION.

Testimony to Its Effects From a Free Trade Democratic Paper.

Macon (Ga.) Telegraph (Dem.)

The year which is now drawing to a close has been the most prosperous in the history of Macon. It has witnessed greater growth of the city, more improvements, a larger net gain in all the elements of strength than any year that has preceded it.

Compared with any other year in the history of Macon 1889 will show:

A larger increase in population.
More new buildings and work of a better quality.
More new manufacturing enterprises.
More money invested in manufactures.
More miles of railroad built from Macon as a center.
More general business.
More improvements on the streets and in the facilities for city transit.
A healthier tone in business and a livelier spirit of public and private enterprise.

This has been a great year for Macon. Two great railroads have been completed. One giving a shorter route to the North and East, enlarging the commercial territory of the city and increasing the competition in freight rates, the other opening a rich region to the South which has developed so fast that there are now prosperous towns where not many months ago the engineer corps cut their way through the forest. The increase of Macon's business from these two roads has been immense.

Macon is fair to look upon these bright autumn days. She never looked so well. The record of the current year has been honorable to her and the future never beamed so bright before her.

It seems that during his lifetime John Guy Vassar subscribed $50,000 in aid of Vassar college contingent upon the raising of $100,000. The death of Mr Vassar occurred before the fund was complete, and when the whole amount was finally donated the executors refused to pay Mr Vassar's share.

SPIRIT OF THE NORTHWEST PRESS.

GRANT COUNTY MINES.

Long Creek Eagle: Although Grant county is looked upon by her sister counties as being a fruitless body of land, but when it comes down to the actual value it will rank along with any of them. While Grant has not that amount of agricultural land that some of Oregon's counties can boast of, that deficiency is well supplied by its valuable mineral deposits. Within the past few weeks nearly fifty ounces of gold dust has been received by one of our merchants which is only a small per cent of the amount obtained from our mines, but showing plainly that should we have a good mining season the revenue received thereby would be no small figure.

STRANGER THINGS HAVE HAPPENED.

Walla Walla Journal: Who knows but what in some future day the very men who were in arms against Governor Moore because he fought the proposed subsidy, and over which we were all more or less insane, will turn around and erect a monument to his memory, for doing the very thing they so recently denounced? To say this, goes considerably against our own grain, but we feel as though it was the truth cropping out and we might as well anticipate coming events as to be taken by surprise, and have men say to us by and by, "I've told you so."

THE EVIL THAT KILLS.

Spokane Falls Review: In all this broad city there is not one man who can afford to gamble. It is a vice that warps the judgment, destroys the finer emotions, deadens the still voice of conscience and draws otherwise good men from the paths of duty. Here alone we find objections sufficient to condemn all games of chance. But, aside from these, gambling impoverishes the victim, lowers him in the estimation of his friends and destroys his chances of success in the honorable pursuits of life.

SOCIETY HAS MADE IT SO.

Aberdeen Herald: The woman who sells herself to avoid the poor house or the river is an outcast. The woman who just as distinctly and quite necessarily sells herself for a coronet is—well, she is foolish, that is all, as a titled divorcee may lift her head as high as the highest. The pity of it is that society has made it so. We should pity the former and despise the latter, yet we scarcely do either.

Pennsylvania Train Accident.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 4.—The eastbound day express on the Pennsylvania road was wrecked near Greensburg, Pa., this morning by running into a sidetracked freight train. The names of the injured, as far as learned, are W. L. Brown, engineer; Elmer Meyers, fireman, injuries believed to be fatal; Engineer Daly, not dangerous; George Gray, fireman, badly; a number of passengers on the day express slightly injured.

The collision was terrific. Both engines were completely wrecked and the baggage car reduced to splinters. It was fortunate for the hundreds of passengers in the express that it was not hurled over the high embankment at this point.

[illegible] O'Sullivan's Innocence.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—This morning Donahue, counsel for O'Sullivan and Kunze, began his address to the Cronin jury in their defense. He talked at length about circumstantial evidence, reasonable doubt, etc. He argued that O'Sullivan's contract with Cronin could not be used against the iceman because it had not been proved that O'Sullivan's intention was to use the contract to bring about Cronin's death. O'Sullivan had no motive to commit the crime. At the close of Donahue's address the court adjourned.

A Live Stock Trust Formed.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—A meeting of live stock dealers of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, Sioux City, Peoria and other points held here yesterday and to-day has perfected an organization to be known as the National Live Stock Exchange. LAKES OF MID-AFRICA.

Where the Nile and the Congo Take Their Rise.

A LONG LETTER FROM STANLEY.

Another Great Mountain Discovered, Whose Melting Snows Probably Swell the Flood of the Mighty Congo.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—News from Zanzibar to-day confirms the previous report that Stanley is at Bogomoyo. As a steamer was dispatched to meet him there, the world will soon see the great explorer once more.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Colonel J. A. Grant, a member of the Emin relief committee, has received a letter from Stanley giving an account of his explorations during the first part of his journey in Central Africa. It gives the best pen picture of the country of any letter yet received. The letter is dated Village of Bathudu, on the Uri river, Central Africa, September 15, and reads as follows:

"My Dear Grant: I have only been able to write scrappy letters hitherto. Though I start them with a strong inclination to give our friends a complete story of our various marches and their incidents, so far I have been compelled to hurriedly close them lest I should miss an opportunity to send them. No, more than any of the committee are interested in Lake Albert.

BEAUTIFUL SHORES OF ALBERT NYANZA.

When on December 13, 1887, we sighted the lake the southern part lay at our feet almost like an immense map. We glanced rapidly over the grosser details, the lofty plateau wall of Ungoro to the east and that of Baregga to the west, rising nearly 3000 feet above the silver water, and between the hills stretched out a plain seemingly very flat and grassy with here and there dark clumps of brushwood which as the plain trended southwesterly became a thin forest. The southwest edge of the lake I fixed at nine miles in a direct southwesterly line from this place. This will make the terminus of the southwestern corner 1 deg. 17 min. north latitude by the prismatic compass. The magnetic bearing of the southeast corner, or just south of a number of falls, is 1 deg. 47 min. This will make it about 1 deg. 11 min. 30 seconds north latitude. This about exactly describes the line of the shore running from the southwest corner of the lake to the southeast corner of Albert.

EXPLORER BAKER'S MISTAKE.

"Baker fixed his position in latitude 1 deg. 15 min. north, if I recollect rightly. In trying to solve the problem of the boundaries of Lake Albert as sketched by Baker and finding that the lake terminus is only four miles south of where he stood to view it from a little hill and on a beautifully clear day, one would almost feel justified in saying he had never seen the lake. But his position of Vacovia proves that he actually was there and the general correctness of his outline of the east coast from Vacovia to Magungo also proves that he navigated the lake. When we turn our faces northeast we say that Baker has done exceedingly well, but when we turn them southward our senses in vain try to penetrate the mystery because our eyes see not what Baker saw. With Lieutenants Stairs, Mounteny Jephson, Surgeon Parke, Emin Pasha and Captain Casati, I look with my own eyes upon the scene. I find Baker has made an error.

"I am somewhat surprised also at Baker's altitudes of Lake Albert and the Blue mountains, and the breadth attributed by him to the lake. The shore opposite Vacovia is ten and a quarter miles distant, not forty or fifty miles. The Blue mountains are nothing else but the west upland, the highest cone or hill being not above 6000 feet above the level of the sea. Altitude of Lake Albert by aneroid and boiling point will not exceed 2350 feet. Last of all, away to the southwest, where he has sketched his infinite stretch of forest there rises about forty miles from Vacovia an immense snowy mountain, a solid square or wedged mass with almost level summit, between two lofty ridges. If it were a beautifully clear day he should have seen it, being nearer to it by thirteen geographical miles than I was.

THE OTHER GREAT LAKES.

About the lake discovered by me in 1876 I can learn very little from the natives. At Kavalli I saw two natives who came from that region. One of them hailed from Unyampaka and the other from Usongora. The last said that Albert lake is much larger than that near Unyampaka. The other said that the southern lake is the largest, as it takes two days to cross it. He describes it as being a month's march from Kavalli. Their accounts differ so much that one is almost tempted to believe that there are two lakes, the smaller one near Unyampaka, the other connected by a river or channel with that of Usongora.

A NEW SNOW MOUNTAIN.

My interest is greatly excited, as you may imagine, by the discovery of Ruwenzori, a snowy mountain and possible rival of Kilima Njaro. Remember that we are in north latitude, and that this mountain must be near or on the equator itself, that it is summer now and that we saw it in the latter part of May. The snow line was estimated at 1000 feet below the summit, hence I conclude that it is not Mount Gordon Bennett, seen in December 1876, though it may be so. The natives said it had snow only occasionally. At the time I saw the latter there was no snow visible. It is a little further east according to the position I give it than Ruwenzori. All questions which this mountain naturally give rise to will be settled, I hope, by this expedition before it returns to the sea. If at all near my line of march its length, hight and local history will be ascertained.

PROBABLE SOURCE OF THE CONGO.

"Many rivers will be found to issue from this curious land between Lake Albert and the Muta. Now what are they? Do they belong to the Nile or the Congo? There is no river going east or southeast from this section except Katonga and Kafur, and both must receive if any but very small supply from Mount Gordon Bennett and Ruwenzori. The new mountain must therefore be drained principally south and west. If south the streams have connection with the lake to the south. If west the Semiliki, tributary to Lake Albert, and some river flowing to the Congo must receive the rest of its waters. Then if the lake to the south receives any considerable supply, interest deepens. Does the lake discharge its surplus into the Nile or the Congo? If the former then it will be of the greatest interest to you and you will have to admit that Lake Victoria is not the main source of the Nile. If to the Congo then the lake will be the source of the river Louwa, or Lowa, since it is the largest tributary to the Congo from the east, between Aruwimi and Luama.

"For your comfort I will dare to venture the opinion even now that the lake is the source of the Louwa. Though I know nothing positive of the matter, I infer it from the bold manner in which the Aruwimi trenches upon the domain. Any one would have imagined that it belonged to the Nile, and that it was only ten minutes march from the head of one of its streams to the crest of the plateau whence we looked down upon Albert Nyanza. From the mouth of the Aruwimi to the head of this stream is 340 geographical miles in a straight line. Well, next to the Aruwimi in size is the Louwa river. From the mouth of the Louwa to the longitude of Ugampawa pass in a direct line is only 210 geographical miles.

STANLEY'S NEW WONDERLAND.

No Expedition Before Ever Accomplished Results Like This.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Herald will to-morrow print a letter from Henry M. Stanley which was handed to the Herald correspondent at Msuwah November 30. In the letter Mr. Stanley says that, looking back over what has been accomplished, he sees no reason for any discontent. Over and above the happy ending of the appointed duties, they have not been unfortunate in geographical discoveries. The Aruwimi river is now known from its source to Bourne.

"The great Congo forest, covering as large an area as France and the Iberian peninsula, can now be certified as an actual fact. The Mountains of the Moon have been located, and Ruwenzori, or the cloud king, robed in eternal snow, has been seen and explored, the Mounts Gordon, Bennett and Mackinnon cones being but great sentries warding off the approach to the inner area of the cloud king.

"The connection between Albert Edward Nyanza and Albert Nyanza has been discovered and the extent of the former lake is now known for the first time. Range after range of mountains have been traversed, separated by such tracts of pasture land as would make American cowboys wild with envy. Right under the burning equator we have fed on blackberries and quenched our thirst with crystal water fresh from snow bed.

"We have also been able to add nearly 6000 square miles of water to Victoria Nyanza. Our naturalist will expatiate on the new species of animals and birds and plants he has discovered.

"It will take us all we know to say what new stores of knowledge have been gathered from unexpected discoveries. This certainly has been the most extraordinary expedition I ever have led into Africa. A veritable divinity seems to have hedged us while we journeyed. I say it with all reverence. It has impelled us whither it would, effected its own will, but nevertheless guided and protected us."

Stanley then goes on to tell at length of the sufferings of the rear column after mentioning in simple terms the terrible experience of the advance column which was lost in the bush, and the six days search which he had to make for it, the death of Jameson and others, the seizure of Emin Pasha and Jephson by the rebels, their rescue, etc., and adds: "Jephson's own letter will describe his anxieties. Not until both were in my camp and the Egyptian fugitives were under our protection did I begin to see that I was only carrying out a lighter plan than mine. Not one officer who was with me will forget the misery he has endured, yet every one that started from home destined to march with the advanced column and share its wonderful adventures is here to-day safe and sound and well."

Referring to terrible privations through which they lived Stanley says: "This was not due to me any more than to the courage with which they have borne all that was imposed upon them by their surroundings, or the cheery energy which they bestowed on their work, or the hopeful voices which rang in the ears of the deafening multitudes of blacks and urged the poor souls on to their goal.

"The vulgar will call it luck, and unbelievers will call it chance, but deep down in each heart remains a feeling that of verity 'there are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamed of in common philosophy.'"

THE LIBERALS ALL RADICALS.

Manhood Suffrage and Disestablishment of the Church of England.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The session of the liberal federation at Manchester continued to-day. A resolution was adopted to demand urgency at the coming session of parliament, for a bill embodying the "one man one vote" principle. A resolution was also adopted, favoring shortening of the duration of parliament, reduction of the period of residence enabling a man to vote to three months, abolition of the duties on tea, coffee and cocoa, direct popular veto on the liquor traffic, and disestablishment of the church of England.

Gladstone was given a non partisan reception in the town hall. He made an address in which he dilated upon the value of municipal institutions as among the best guarantees of social security. This, he said, was demonstrated by the improvement they have effected in the life and condition of the great masses of the people.

WAGE SLAVERY IN GERMANY.

Even an Unmarried Miner Does Not Receive Enough to Live On.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—Two hundred thousand miners employed in the treasury coal mines in the Saar district, have petitioned the kaiser to intervene in their behalf. They complain that even an unmarried man cannot live on the wages they now get, as all things are very dear.

FOUR BLOWS WITH A HAMMER.

A Seattle Wirepuller Beaten by a Fellow-Mechanic.

SEATTLE, Dec. 4.—H. G. Bishop, of Bishop & Smiley, electricians of this city, was feloniously assaulted to-day by Robert Risk, also an electrician, at the former's office this morning. The instrument used was a carpenter's hammer weighing a pound. Six weeks ago the men were partners, but owing to some difficulty the partnership was dissolved, Risk going into business himself. At the time there were several contracts of the firm in an unfinished state which were left in care of the new firm except one. This contract Risk was to finish. This morning he called on Bishop, saying the work was completed and wanted the pay. Bishop replied that the work had not been finished in a proper manner and that Risk would have to change it before he could get his money. Risk resented Bishop's reply, and a dispute arose which ended by Bishop telling Risk he lied.

This aroused the latter to a pitch of frenzy, and, seizing a hammer, he struck Bishop, who was sitting at the desk, four times over the head. At the first blow Bishop arose to defend himself, and a short scuffle followed. He was soon overcome by the force of the blow and sank in an unconscious state. The noise of Bishop falling to the floor was heard in an adjoining room by his partner Smiley, who came into the room just in time to prevent Risk striking another blow. Rushing forward he wrenched the weapon from the would be murderer's hands, who rushed from the room. Physicians were summoned and examination of the wounded man showed that the cuts were deep, but no fracture of the skull had been sustained. He will be all right in a few days.

A warrant was made out charging Risk with assault with intent to kill, but up to a late hour to-night the police have been unable to find him. The affair created excitement in Seattle, as both parties are well known.

IMMORAL TACOMA POLICEMEN.

They Frequent Vile Resorts—Utter Incompetence of the Chief.

TACOMA, Dec. 4.—The city council met in special session this morning to hear the reply of Chief Chesney to the charges of malfeasance, inattention and incompetency, together with the evidence to sustain the allegations of Councilmen Horsfall and Steel. The attorney for Chesney filed a series of technical objections, claiming that the charges had to be sworn to and were indefinite on material points. The council, on advice of City Attorney Snell, decided that the resolution containing the charges was sufficient. Evidence was then introduced showing that City Jailer Jones had charged the city with meals for prisoners in large excess of those furnished, and his bills had been certified to as correct by Chesney. Money taken from prisoners when arrested had not been returned at their discharge. Prisoners were also permitted to escape, no proper efforts being made to recapture them, in order that meals could be charged for the full time of sentence without being actually furnished.

Officers were often drunk when off duty, and even during their beats, and many visited houses of prostitution while wearing their uniforms. The tendency of the evidence seemed to prove incompetency on the part of the chief more than intentional malfeasance. The investigation will be resumed at 9 A. M. to-morrow.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. trustees took place this evening and the reports of departments showed much progress during the year. Great efforts will be made throughout the winter to secure funds for an association building, and next Sunday has been agreed upon by all the evangelical pastors of the city for sermons on the scope of the Y. M. C. A. work and its immediate needs.

THE DRUM LUMMON VEIN FORKS.

Survey of the Great Montana Mine's Workings Ordered.

HELENA, Dec. 4.—A suit has been pending here for some time which interests mining people throughout the West. Judge Hunt yesterday decided in favor of petitioners in the case of the petition of the St. Louis Mining Company for a survey of the Montana Company's (Limited) mine, the great Drum Lummon, at Marysville. The properties of the St. Louis Company are adjoining those of the Drum Lummon, and it is contended that the Drum Lummon vein outcrops upon them. The survey was asked for because the St. Louis people thought the ore was being extracted from their ground. The defendants allege that the Drum Lummon vein does not outcrop in the St. Louis Company's property, and objected to the underground survey of their property because they contend it is nobody's business but their own. In the argument before the court by attorneys for the defendant the principal point raised was the unconstitutionality of the law, but Judge Hunt decided that the court could not regard mining property as different from any other, and could not take any judicial notice of the fact that a mining company desired to preserve secrecy in its operations.

The testimony of experts was to the effect that the vein of the Drum Lummon mine outcropped both on the properties of the St. Louis Company and on those of the Montana Company, and the St. Louis Company, having prior title, would have prior right to the vein. This made possible the infringement of plaintiff's ground by the defendant, and such a possibility being established, the order for a survey is granted, in order that the question may be determined. The attorneys for the Drum Lummon have appealed to the supreme court, and it will be some time before the case is decided.

HE STOPPED THE LIGHTNING TRAIN.

Clever Expedient of a Drummer Who Had a Date at Weiser.

UNION, Or., Dec. 4.—The limited fast mail train, in making the run between Huntington and Green River, 541 miles, makes only five stops, and the distance between Nampa and Huntington is covered at lightning speed. Weiser lies between these points in Idaho. But a few days ago the west bound flyer stopped there, much to the surprise of the villagers. After stopping, the engineer jumped from the cab, hammer in hand, to repair a supposed break, and Tom Merchant, a well known drummer, smilingly alighted from the train, grip in hand, from a Pullman car.

While waiting at Nampa, Merchant had a few words with the engineer, and a ten dollar bill exchanged hands, and this explains why the flyer happened to stop at Weiser, where Merchant had important business to transact. Merchant enjoys the reputation of being the wealthiest drummer on the road and his scheme saved him one day in time and secured him an order for a big bill of goods that a competitor was nursing for the following day.

TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Wasco County Baby With Rattlesnakes for Fingers.

PENDLETON, Dec. 4.—The following is taken from a letter written by a Wasco county lady. After giving the name and date of a child's birth, she writes: "Where the child's fingers and toes ought to have been there were rattlesnakes' heads, and there was a small snake grown from the top of its head and hung down over its face. The head of the snake was the child's nose, and whenever the baby moved the snake on its face would raise up, run out its tongue and hiss. The baby only lived five hours but the snake part lived five hours longer."

A PRETTY YOUNG GAMBLER.

Adventures of a School Teacher, Now in Elmira Jail.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Ella C. White, the handsome young teacher of Elmira, N. Y., who suddenly disappeared a couple of months ago after discovery of the fact that she had fraudulently obtained about $25,000 by forgery of other people's names and spent the money in speculation, was located in Chicago several days ago and to-day was taken to Elmira on a requisition. Since coming here a couple of months ago she has been speculating in bucket shops, and this resulted in her discovery, descriptions having been sent out by the Elmira police.

CONSOLIDATION OF VOTES.

Purpose of the Alliance of the K. of L. and the Farmers.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4.—The Farmers' and Laborers' Union resumed its session this morning, but in the absence of reports from committees most of the time was taken up in speechmaking. The joint committee of the union and Northern alliance, appointed yesterday, after a long conference last night failed to agree on a plan of consolida-

THE CITY LAWMAKERS

Regular Meeting of the Common Council Last Night.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Salvation Army Ordinance Veto Passed Over the Mayor's Head.

VERY LAUGHABLE INCIDENT

A Dream About Portland's Future—The Milkman Makes His Statement—A Memorial Tribute to Philip C. Schuyler.

According to the provisions of the city charter, the council should have met at 7 o'clock last evening, but only the mayor and Mr. Gerdes were on time, and it was 7:45 before all the members were in their seats and the mayor in his chair. The councilmen were all in pleasant mood, and a regular "love feast" was held in the mayor's office, and much jollity indulged in. The session was begun by the clerk reading a

VETO MESSAGE.

Mayor De Lashmutt returned an ordinance to regulate the playing of bands, without his approval. He said the ordinance, if literally enforced, would work a hardship in many cases. The chief object of the ordinance was to prevent the Salvation Army from promenading the streets, and all indirect legislation he thought very questionable. His message was somewhat lengthy, and his objections to the ordinance were based on high moral and religious grounds. He said, "the greatest freedom of speech and worship is one of the bulwarks of our republican form of government; Christ set an example of meekness and simplicity of worship, and although he did not parade the streets with cymbals and bass drums, he did ride into Jerusalem astride a long-eared colt, whose musical intonations are reported to be almost as discordant as those of our Salvation Army. The ordinance is so vague that in all probability it would be inoperative."

"[illegible] DOWN ON THE HILLS."

Just as the clerk had finished reading the veto message, the sound of trumpets, cymbals and drums was heard in the distance, and Gerdes remarked: "Have they come?" A moment later, the Salvation Army halted in front of the building and raised a joyful noise, sufficient to have thrown down the walls of Jericho and Jerusalem. Gerdes, who had arisen to advocate the passage of the ordinance over the veto, sat down amid a storm of laughter, and the mayor turned pale and looked as if he would sink through his throne. After a time, the music ceased, and only the droning voice of one of the lazy red shirted brethren was heard as he held forth to hear himself talk.

Gerdes said this was evidently not accidental, but arranged by Gerdes to secure the passage of the ordinance.

Gerdes said he would like to say a word if he could be heard, but just then the band broke loose and drowned his voice. All business had to be suspended for some time, and then the question being put, "Shall the ordinance pass notwithstanding the veto," the council voted, unanimously to sustain it, and so the veto was defeated. Before the result was announced, however, [illegible] changed his vote as he said the ordinance was not strong enough.

ASKING FOR A FRANCHISE.

The Portland Cable Road Company presented a petition asking for a franchise to extend their line from Fifth street along Alder to B, on B from Tenth to North Nineteenth, and on North Nineteenth from B to N street. If this franchise is granted, petitioner agrees to construct a bridge on Alder from Lownsdale to B of the most approved pattern for the accommodation of street travel, the full width of Alder street, at its own expense, and without expense to the city or adjoining property holders. The cost of this structure is estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000; referred to committee on streets.

Under the proper head an ordinance granting the franchise was introduced, and twice and referred to the committee on streets. The ordinance provides that the road shall be built to B street in 1890 and the remainder completed by 1892.

TWO ORDINANCES PASSED.

An ordinance granting the Transcontinental Street Railway Company a franchise to extend their line from Third and Caruthers out to the [illegible] street, was passed.

An ordinance appointing F. Matthews overseer of street cleaning and sprinkling department; amending the ordinance providing for the [illegible] that it will take a majority of the council instead of a majority of a quorum to displace him was passed.

CITY BONDS TO BE ISSUED.

The committee on ways and means, to whom was referred the matter of the issue of bonds for city hall purposes, recommended that bonds in the full amount authorized by the city charter be prepared and that the same be disposed of from time to time when expenditures shall be necessary. Their report was adopted, and under the proper head an ordinance authorizing a loan for a loan for a term of years, to build a city hall, and the issue of bonds therefor and the time and manner of issuing the same, and providing for the sale thereof, was read twice and referred to the committee on ways and means.

ABOUT THE CREMATORY.

F. Fliedner presented a bill of $400 for four months' use of his crematory. The reason he gave for not presenting the bill before is that the crematory did not at first perform its work in a satisfactory manner. It is now in good order and operates satisfactorily.

Mr. Fliedner said he was informed that Mr. [illegible] had had fire but a few times in the furnace, and when he did he could burn nothing. The garbage had all been dumped on the flat below the crematory and the scavengers could get no fire any longer.

Gerdes said Fliedner only had this from hearsay. Mr. Dekum said he had visited the crematory and found it working well, and all the garbage was burned up except tin cans, etc. The road out there was in good order.

Fliedner said he had been out there several times, and he knew that the garbage was burned on the ground, and not in the furnace.

[illegible] said it would be best to refer the matter, and on motion it was referred to the committee on health and police.

WHERE SHALL IT BE DUMPED?

The scavengers of the city presented a petition asking the council to take immediate action to secure a place to deposit garbage. The place used at present is almost inaccessible since the rains, and hundreds of loads are being deposited in the vicinity of the county hospital. They ask further that if practicable they be allowed to use the old dumping ground on the Watkins property, which they can obtain permission to use if every day's deposit is covered with sawdust or earth, and they wish a small appropriation from the city to assist in covering the garbage. Petition referred to committee on health and police.

BLOCKADING THE STREETS.

F. R. Hair and a large number of other business men presented a petition stating that owing to the laying of water mains, now in progress, their places of business were likely to be blockaded during the holiday trade, whereby they would lose thousands of dollars, and asking that the council take some steps for their relief in the matter.

Mr. Forbes said the petition was signed by all the business men in the locality affected. The object was to have the street kept open, if possible, during the holidays. He did not believe the council had any power in the matter, but he would move to refer it to the street committee, to do all they could for the relief of the petitioners, which motion carried.

THE "LOUISE VAUGHN" ACCEPTED.

The committee on commerce recommended that the offer of Frank E. Vaughn tendering the steam tug Louise Vaughn to the city in place of the [illegible], be accepted, and as she has been strengthened and improved, they recommend that these improvements be offset against the accrued rent, which report was adopted. A resolution authorizing the committee to receive the steamer was adopted.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

The committee on streets awarded the contract for improving Whitaker street to Jasper Ward, and North Thirteenth to J. R. O'Neil and J. H. Smith. They also granted a number of petitions for street lights.

THE REPORT ADOPTED.

The report of the committee on sewers, recommending that the report of the assessors in the matter of the Tanner creek sewer be adopted and published, as required by law.

IT WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

A resolution was adopted instructing the city attorney to make an investigation regarding the rights of the Southern Pacific Company, O. R. & N. Co., Northern Pacific Terminal Company, to maintain temporary and permanent railroad tracks in North Front street, and the rights of the city in reference to the removal of tracks from said street, and report his conclusions to the common council at its next regular meeting.

RESOLUTIONS.

A resolution introduced by Farrell, requiring the Commissioner of Streets Chapman, to submit a written report at the next meeting of the council, stating why he should be allowed his deputy to be absent on private business from three to ten days at a time, and why he signed a report for his full pay at the time he was [illegible] the necessity of extra [illegible] which was granted, was adopted. [illegible] was also adopted authorizing the [illegible] committee on accounts and current expenses to advertise for furnishing blanks and doing job printing for the city for a year.

A resolution extending the time in which the Metropolitan Railway Company must complete their second track till October 6, 1890, was passed.

PETITIONS NOT GRANTED.

The petitions of B. Goldsmith, George H. Flanders, C. H. Lewis, R. Glisan and others, appealing from the assessment of the Johnson creek sewer, were not granted by the sewer committee, it appearing that such assessments have been regularly made, and that it is just and equitable, adopted.

PROCEEDINGS SET ASIDE.

The ordinance adopting the report of the surveyor in the matter of the proposed extension of Gibbs street was repealed and all proceedings in the matter set aside, and a resolution ordering another survey was adopted.

APPOINTED ASSESSORS.

Peter Esser, E. D. Hill and A. N. Gamble were appointed assessors in the matter of the extension of North Twentieth street, and A. E. Borthwick, A. H. Morgan and F. Opitz in the matter of the extension of Fourteenth street.

A HOROSCOPIC DREAM.

The Secretary of the Oregon Immigration Board Returned From the Sound.

The secretary of the Oregon Immigration Board has returned from the Sound, where he has been rusticating for several days past. The principal object of the trip was a matter of business, connected with the work of the board.

"There is no use of talking," said he to a reporter yesterday, "the Sound country is developing rapidly. New enterprises are springing up, new buildings are going up and the old mossbacks are "drying" up. There are evidences of growth and prosperity on all hands, and I actually believe that the Sound country is growing at least half as fast as Portland is. I did not stop at Pasco, but I kept my eye on it."

While the secretary was at the Sound he was visited by a strange dream. He dreamed that twenty-five years had elapsed. Portland was the Chicago of the Pacific Northwest. The city was the distributing center of a vast territory and was rising to still greater prominence through the resistless pulsations of commercial activity. The flags of every nation flaunted from the ships which filled the river nearly two miles down. The streets were traversed with cable cars and electric motors. The water that supplied the city flowed from the crystal springs of Bull Run. The Immigration Board had reorganized into a benevolent society, and corner lots were selling at $——.

But here the sweet dream came to a close. It was interrupted either by a cockroach or the stentorian tones of the porter cussing a Chinaman.

THE MILKMAN HAS HIS SAY.

He Claims to Be a Victim of Malicious Prosecution, Prompted by a Former Employe.

D. T. McCartney, the East Portland milkman, whose arrest was caused several days since on a charge of selling impure milk, called at THE OREGONIAN office yesterday evening to state his side of the case.

He claims that the prosecution was prompted by Chester Poorman, who was discharged by him for not being able to do the work required of him. "Poorman," said he, "represented himself to be a capable man, with experience, and, on that representation, I engaged him. I soon found that he was not the kind of a man I supposed I had engaged, and was obliged to let him go.

"It is true that one or two of my cows had sore teats while Poorman was in my employ. I cautioned him to milk them on the ground and not under any consideration, mix it with the good milk. He did so, as the man who worked on the new addition to the stable at the time, can testify. We all used the same milk in our house, Poorman included, that was sold to our customers.

"When State Food Inspector Peter Esser came out, he examined my stables and pronounced them to be in a healthy and cleanly condition. State Veterinary Surgeon Withycombe examined all of my cows, and he said that beyond the fact that two or three had chapped teats, they were all well. If Poorman had the interests of the public so much at heart, why did he not complain while he was in my employ? If he thought that the milk was impure, why did he use it himself?

"This charge is trumped up against me to injure my business. It is brought by the man whom I discharged. I have only been in the business a short time, and consider it a mean piece of work to injure me for no other reason than spite. If I am guilty of selling impure milk I want to know it, and I want my customers to know it. I also want this case disposed of as speedily as possible."

THE LATE PHILIP C. SCHUYLER.

An Appropriate Memorial Tribute Paid His Memory by the Portland Library Association.

As death has taken from us one of our associates in this board, it is fit that we, the surviving members, should pay a tribute of respect to his worth and ability.

Philip Church Schuyler was born in Ithaca, New York, December 4, 1835, from the union of Philip Church Schuyler with Lady M. Dix; and he was thus a direct descendant of two of the most honored branches of the American aristocracy, being lineally descended from General Philip Schuyler, the famous revolutionary patriot. And it is interesting to note, in chronicling the life and death of one of his line, that General Schuyler was himself born from a family already distinguished for many generations.

Our late associate, then Philip Church Schuyler, jr., when but eighteen years old, started for Oregon with W. H. Gray, and, early on the march, joined the train in which were R. R. Thompson and D. P. Thompson, arriving in Oregon in October, 1853. Mr. Gray had brought across the continent a large band of sheep, which he was desirous of locating on Clatsop Plains; and they were sent from Astoria by water, in charge of Mr. Schuyler. When off Tansy Point stress of weather compelled the tug towing the barge to cast it loose, to prevent being carried out to sea by the storm; and it is characteristic of the lad, Philip Schuyler, that he stuck by his trust until he was barely able to escape with his life in a small boat.

He entered into the employ of Messrs. Leonard & Green, and remained with them until 1855, when he became a citizen of Portland, and soon after associated himself in business with Messrs. Smith & Davis, druggists.

In 1878 he became an insurance agent, and his death has demonstrated how great were the responsibilities which his principals entrusted to him, and how faithfully they were served.

It is gratifying to note, that his connection with the library dates from the first meeting of the incorporators, on February 20, 1864, when he was elected a director, in which capacity he served up to the time of his death. The first meeting of the board of directors, of which he was a member was held three days later (February 23, 1864), at the office of Judge William Strong, in this city. And this act of his early citizenship with us seems also indicative of his character, for he is generally credited with being exceedingly public-spirited, and having not only the welfare of his fellow citizens and the prosperity of his town at heart, but a keen sense of the responsibilities of the individual citizen to his city, his state and his country.

On the 9th day of February, 1867, he was elected treasurer of the association, and performed the duties of that office without intermission. His methodical habits and unquestioned integrity made him peculiarly fitted for positions of this kind, and his clear and accurate reports were so exceedingly gratifying to his associates that they cannot but feel that it will be difficult to supply his place. In fact, it may be said generally of Philip C. Schuyler that his ideas of honor were of the strictest sort, and his standing with the business men of this city of the highest; and though he did not achieve great financial success, this rare eulogy may be pronounced over his grave—that he was better in caring for the interests of others than for his own, and more scrupulous in the fulfillment of a trust than in seeking gain for himself.

He died in Portland, Oregon, October 28, 1889.

He has served the institution we represent ably and faithfully for twenty-five years, and by his death the library has lost one of its oldest officers and staunchest friends. Therefore, be it

Resolved, By the board of directors of the Portland Library Association:

First—That, by the death of Philip Church Schuyler, this association has lost one of its most valued friends, this board one of its most conscientious and earnest members, the city of Portland a good citizen, and his wife and two children a loving husband and father.

Second—That this board tenders to the family of the deceased its sympathy, in this their great affliction.

Third—That these resolutions be spread on the records of the association, and that a copy of the same be sent to the family of the deceased.

L. C. Henrichsen Opens Some of the Finest Stones Ever Shown in Portland.

It was a genuine surprise to the many friends and old time patrons of Mr. L. C. Henrichsen, one of the leading jewelers of the coast, located at No. 149 First street in this city, to note the really elegant display of diamonds and precious stones that this gentleman has just been able to make in his well appointed establishment. It is the claim of Mr. Henrichsen that he has the finest collection of stones of all kinds, fine imported silver-plated ware, jewelry and watches ever before opened in the Northwest, and he is supported in this assertion by the appearance of his well displayed stock. He extends a cordial invitation to the general public to call at his mammoth establishment in this city and inspect this stock, and he and his numerous attaches will give their personal attention in showing these rich goods to all callers. Attention is called this morning to the large advertisement of Mr. Henrichsen at the top of the first page of this issue.

The great sale of delayed cloaks at the Farmers' and Mechanics' store will only last three days, possibly not that long, as their prices are sure to create a great rush. If you wish to avoid the crowd go early in the day.

Ladies, it will pay you to read every line of the Farmers' and Mechanics' store ad.

ITEMS FROM THE EAST BANK

A Meeting Held by the Official Board of the Y. M. C. A.

A Very Encouraging Showing of the Good Work—City Jail's Condition—Sidewalk Needed—Poor Lights—Notes.

At the meeting of the official board of the Young Men's Christian Association held Tuesday night in the association rooms, A. D. Soper, the general secretary, submitted his report for the month ending November 30. His report was as follows:

Receipts—
Balance from October	$12 45
L. H. Wells, collections	69 75
A. D. Soper, collections	20 40
New subscriptions	2 15
New membership	12 00	—$113 85
Disbursements—
Secretary's salary	$40 00
Gas company	7 00
White Printing Company	8 00
Stationery	2 00	—57 80
Balance		$56 05

The entertainment proceeds were $205 30, and the expenses were $70 65, which leaves the balance from the entertainment of $134 65. Total cash on hand, $190 70. Subscriptions and membership dues, $127, making the assets of the association $317 70. The indebtedness to November 30 was $250 05. Deducting this from the assets leaves $67 65 above everything, considering the subscriptions on the books as good.

ATTENDANCE.

Sunday, 4 o'clock meetings, attendance for the month was 170; morning, Sunday meetings, 38; evening meetings, 12; Friday evening Bible study, 26; week of prayer, 154; total, 400.

Reading rooms—Attendance for the month, 316; evening attendance, 564; total, 879.

Educational classes—Arithmetic, 21; penmanship and bookkeeping, 25; total, 46.

Two entertainments—Attendance was 325.

Committee meetings—Entertainment committee, 6 meetings, 4s; lecture committee, 2; educational, 3; week of prayer, 2; board meeting, 9; total 60.

Total attendance at the rooms for the entire month of November, 1385.

The report is very full and shows everything that has been accomplished. It is desired to collect up all the subscriptions due during the month, and for this purpose A. D. Soper and L. H. Wells will call on all the subscribers.

The educational classes are doing finely, and are the means of attracting many young men to the rooms and increasing the membership.

THE CITY JAIL.

The city marshal called attention to the condition of the city jail at the last meeting of the council, remarking that it should be repaired. It really needs something to be done to it, not to make it a comfortable place of resort, but to place it in condition that it will not be inhuman to put a criminal in. It is a damp place, cannot be kept warm when the weather is cold, and then it is next door to the pound, which does not add much to the jail as a pleasure resort. As a terror to evil doers it is certainly a success. The Salvationists ornamented the walls with Biblical quotations written in colored letters a foot long which in comparison with the surroundings are extremely grotesque.

WHO WANTS A STREET LAMP.

There are several of the old coal oil street lamps and fixtures on hand that are of no use to the city, and as the bell tower, in which they were formerly stored, is now used for hay and grain, there is now no place in which to keep them. It would be just as well to allow those on the outskirts, where there are no electric lights, to have these lamps and fixtures. They are of no use to the city. Should any one want a lamp the street commissioner is the one to see about getting it. He says he must make some disposition of them pretty soon.

NEEDED SIDEWALK.

Some are inclined to condemn the council for authorizing the construction of a two-foot sidewalk from Holladay avenue to Cedar, and advance the ridiculous idea that the improvement was ordered for the benefit of the property owners. It is for the benefit of the hundreds that go to the O. & C. depot, who have been compelled to wade through the mud ankle deep. At best the sidewalk is only a cheap, temporary affair, and cannot be of any advantage to the property.

MISSING VEGETABLES.

Yesterday a large pumpkin and cabbage were missing from the garden of Mr. Walker, near St. Johns. When Mr. I. Byars was seen driving in a buggy in that neighborhood he had a pumpkin and a head of cabbage in the buggy, but Mr. Byars claimed he traded for the vegetables. However, Mr. Byars's reputation for truth has been impaired by his snake stories and his statement may be taken with some grains of allowance.

ANOTHER NAME.

Another name is mentioned on the street in connection with the office of street commissioner, and that is Thomas R. Turnbull. It is claimed that no better man could be named than Mr. Turnbull; that as a street contractor he has always done work that passed muster; and it is held that with Turnbull as street commissioner no contractor could foist a bad job on the city.

A SICK LIGHT.

The electric light on Eighth and L streets has been out off for some time. Mr. Frost, who has charge of the electric plant, stated he would have it repaired yesterday. In the press of getting the new dynamo in running order he had been unable to look after this light in person and sent a man to put it in order, but who, it seems, failed to start the light going.

WORK TO COMMENCE.

It was stated yesterday that contracts for work on the Woodstock & Waverly electric line on that portion outside the city will be let to-day. Until iron is on hand no work inside the city limits will be done, as the company are required by their franchise to complete each block before commencing on another.

MOVED TO SILVERTON.

Rev. M. Judy, who arrived from California about two months ago, has moved to Silverton, where he will have charge of the Methodist church. He will likely be re-transferred to the Oregon conference at the next session.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. S. Heath, of Spokane Falls, is visiting with Mrs. W. J. B. Nicholson in this city.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

On and after December 2, by special request of his patrons and friends, Mr. Freimann has consented to reopen his elegant establishment to the public at night, and has made extensive improvements and alterations in his kitchen, so as to be able to make a specialty of oysters (theater parties take notice), and has imported a first-class oyster cook for that purpose.

For the benefit of the traveling public breakfast will be served in the magnificent Pullman dining cars now run on the Union Pacific fast mail train leaving Portland at 7 A. M. immediately after the departure of the train.

BEFORE THE JUDICIAL BENCH.

U. S. Grand Jury—No New Trial—Demurrer Overruled—Divorce Cases—Suit for Damage—Set for Trial—Etc.

The United States grand jury yesterday returned a true bill in the case of Dodd and Walker, charged with mail robbery, and Charles Lewis, mate of the steamer Elder, charged with maltreating a passenger.

The grand jury has taken a recess until January 14, at which time they will be prepared to examine into numerous complaints, various "timber cruisers" and their victims, who have been violating the laws in the matter of taking timber lands. There is likely to be a heap of trouble made for parties who have allowed their cupidity to take precedence of their sense of right.

James Turk was arraigned in the United States circuit court yesterday, and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of boarding a vessel without permission, but to a charge of secreting and harboring a sailor from the same ship he entered a plea of not guilty.

HE GETS NO NEW TRIAL.

In the matter of a motion for a new trial for James T. Berry, who married a woman in Breckenridge, Colo., several years ago, and subsequently wedded another in Albina, without doing through the formality of divorce proceedings, recently convicted of polygamy, Judge Stearns has denied that there was any error in law, insufficiency of evidence, and that any of the allegations in the motion were based upon facts.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Yesterday morning George Reinweber, an inmate of the poorfarm, sent here by the county judge of Wasco county, was examined by Dr. A. C. Panton and adjudged insane. The patient had once before been confined in the Oregon asylum, and had also been in an Ohio institution for the insane.

THE DEMURRER OVERRULED.

Judge Stearns yesterday overruled the demurrer to the indictment of Walter Keyes, charged with setting up a lottery scheme. The demurrer was based upon the fact that the indictment was returned on the 16th of October, the same day that Keyes pleaded guilty to a former indictment and paid a fine of $150.

The court held that the first indictment was founded on the offense committed on the 17th of August, on which day Keyes was arrested, which is specifically set forth in the indictment, and that each day thereafter that he carried on the lottery scheme was a distinct crime.

TWO MORE DIVORCE SUITS.

Yesterday the following divorce suits were filed in the state circuit court:

Isabel Davis against William P. Davis, to whom she was married at The Dalles, November 26, 1883. Mrs. Davis charges her husband with the crime of adultery, committed at divers places and with various women in this city. In addition to a decree the plaintiff also prays for the custody of her infant daughter.

Louise M. Green wants a divorce from N. B. Green, to whom she was married in Grass Valley, Nevada county, Cal., February 27, 1881. The charge against the defendant is gross and habitual drunkenness. Plaintiff also asks for the custody of her minor daughter.

BEGAN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Yesterday afternoon Jacob Sittell commenced a suit against Policeman E. K. Whitehead to recover damages in the sum of $2500. The grounds upon which Sittell bases his demand, as set forth in his complaint, are that at 9 o'clock on the 19th of November last, Whitehead entered plaintiff's house, without a warrant to do so, unmercifully beat and assaulted Sittell, and placed him under arrest. At that time Mrs. Sittell had just given birth to a child, and her husband was in attendance upon her, but Whitehead conveyed him to jail without allowing the plaintiff to obtain assistance from his neighbors, thus endangering his wife's life.

CASES SET FOR TRIAL.

The following cases will be tried on the day mentioned:

Forbes vs. Willamette Electric Company, December 5; Murphy vs. Albina, 5; Willey vs. P. & W. V. Ry. Co., 6; McKay vs. McKay, 6; Fuog vs. Fuog, 7; Castel vs. O'Leary, 9; Caswell vs. Leavens, 10; state vs. Gibbs, 10; Estes vs. Nicolai, 11; Fischer vs. Bain, 11; Buchanan vs. P. & W. V. Ry. Co., 12; state vs. Mayre, 12; state vs. McLaughlin, 13; Flynn vs. S. W. P. R. R. Co., 16; Courtney vs. Halfpenny et al., 17; state vs. Haizelwood, 17; state vs. Young, 18; state vs. Carter, 19; Donovan vs. Belgrade, 19; McCaffrey vs. Markle, 20; First National bank of Salem vs. Oregon & Washington Mortgage Savings bank, 23; state vs. Wallace & Gessford, 24; Portland National bank vs. Hughes, January 2; Love vs. Morrill, 3.

JUDGE TANNER'S GRIST.

In the police court yesterday William Boyle, Jessie Long, J. R. Smithson, and M. J. Boyle, ordinary drunks, were fined $10 each; W. D. Cummings, who was loaded with the invidious bug juice, was taxed $20, and A. H. Rumfall and P. Ryan, who indulged in just enough to be disorderly, were fined $10 each.

John McCleara, Charles Williams and Frank Henderson, whose offenses came under the category of disorderly conduct, were fined $10 each, Gussie Acquit, same charge, only $5.

"Professor" King, an itinerant song and dance artist, who makes a living by performing in houses of questionable resort, was fined $20 for roaming the streets after 12 o'clock midnight. John Peters and Dan Ward, two tramps, too lazy to work and too much afraid to steal, were sent up for sixty and forty days respectively, on a charge of begging. Henry Miller was fined $50 for stealing a pair of gloves worth 50 cents from the Farmers' and Mechanics' store on First street.

Rodney Love, who was arrested for assisting a prisoner to escape, will have an examination Saturday afternoon. Young Love's offense consisted of helping his brother, Fred Love, to escape from Officer Gibson, who attempted to arrest the latter for fighting.

AN EX-SOLDIER STABBED.

A Barroom Brawl Results in F. J. Wilson Being Fatally Wounded.

Francis's Saloon, Vancouver, the Place Where the Quarrel Started—Moran the Assaulter Makes Good His Escape.

"The—— ——has given it to me," were the words uttered by F. J. Wilson as he staggered into Francis's saloon, corner Sixth and C street, Vancouver, at 10:15 o'clock last Tuesday night.

Before the large crowd in the barroom realized what the man had said, the latter reached to his left side, grasping the handle of a large dirk knife which was imbedded to its hilt in his body just below the floating ribs, drew the dripping instrument of death from his flesh. Becoming faint at this juncture, Wilson dropped the gory blade and fell to the floor.

A short time previous to the occurrences recorded, Moran and a man named McCarthy became involved in a quarrel, during which the latter slapped Moran in the face. The latter drew a large double-edged dirk and said that if McCarthy did not leave the saloon immediately, he would get hurt. A man named Jackson attempted to put Moran out at the time, but could not. Finally, the saloonkeeper took the latter outside and gave him a talking to. Wilson was then standing on the sidewalk. He is a half-witted man, and, after the saloonkeeper left Moran, who had started to walk away, he (Wilson) followed him up. After turning into Reserve street, Moran saw that he was being followed, and it is supposed he thought the man was McCarthy who was dogging his footsteps. At all events, he turned suddenly and drove the knife into Wilson's side and left it there, making good his escape.

Immediately after the stabbing, Wilson walked into the saloon, with the knife in his body, as stated. After falling to the floor, the persons in the saloon picked the wounded man up and carried him to St. Joseph's hospital, where he now lies at the point of death. Dr. J. R. Smith was called to dress the wound, which is between the floating ribs and hip bone, about four inches to the left of the navel. An OREGONIAN reporter had a brief conversation with Dr. Smith yesterday. He stated that the knife had gone nearly through Wilson's body, but he was unable to say whether the intestines had been severed or not. The patient has suffered no hemorrhage as yet, but is in a state of collapse and liable to breathe his last at any moment. When the reporter left Vancouver last evening, the district attorney was preparing to take Wilson's ante-mortem statement.

Marshal Handy stated that he had no traces of the would-be murderer. In the excitement following the stabbing Moran disappeared as suddenly as if the earth had opened up and swallowed him. Rumor has it that he was seen leaving town on the county road, but no one seems to know this for a certainty. All the boats leaving Vancouver were thoroughly searched by officers, so Moran did not make his escape in this manner. Mr. Handy is confident that the man will be captured, as he has an important clue upon which he is working. Besides, the fugitive is well known. Both Moran and his victim are discharged soldiers. The former has a bad record and is known as a ready man with deadly weapons.

DRS. DARRIN CAN BE FOUND

At the Washington Building, Corner Fourth and Washington Streets—Another Wonderful Cure.

A Remarkable Cure of Lung Trouble.

Mr. Editor, Dear Sir: About two years ago I was stricken down with paralysis, and confined to my bed for six months. About that time my lungs and liver became congested, and indigestion followed. My lungs became diseased, with a heavy cough, and I gradually failed in health. Four months ago I called on Dr. Darrin for treatment. He has so far restored me to health in all respects, that I am able to be around, and have not the slightest doubt of an absolute cure. I reside at Milwaukie, Or., and my son can be seen at the Esmond hotel to vouch for this statement. J. J. BLAIR.

Drs. Darrin's New Place of Business.

Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at the Washington building, corner of Washington and Fourth streets, Portland. Rooms 16, 17, 22 and 23, second floor. Ask the elevator boy for room 16. Office hours, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhœa, stricture, spermatorrhœa, seminal weakness, or loss of desire of sexual power, in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed, and never published in the papers. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors' office. Inquiries answered, and circulars sent free. (Parties writing will please mention paper.)

A Meeting Held by the Official Board of the Y. M. C. A.

A Very Encouraging Showing of the Good Work—City Jail's Condition—Sidewalk Needed—Poor Lights—Notes.

At the meeting of the official board of the Young Men's Christian Association held Tuesday night in the association rooms, A. D. Soper, the general secretary, submitted his report for the month ending November 30. His report was as follows:

Receipts—
Balance from October	$12 65
L. H. Wells, collections	59 75
A. D. Soper, collections	20 00
New subscriptions	2 25
New membership	19 00	—$113 85
Disbursements—
Secretary's salary	$40 00
Gas company	1 50
Whitt Printing Company	1 00
Stationery	5 00	— 57 80
Balance		$ 56 05

The entertainment proceeds were $205 30 and the expenses were $70 65, which leaves the balance from the entertainment of $134 65. Total cash on hand, $190 70. Subscriptions and membership dues, $127, making the assets of the association $317 70. The indebtedness to November 30 was $230 05. Deducting this from the assets leaves $87 65 above everything, considering the subscriptions on the books as good.

ATTENDANCE.

Sunday, 4 o'clock meetings, attendance for the month was 176; morning Sunday meetings, 33; evening meetings, 12; Friday evening Bible study, 26; week of prayer, 154; total, 400.

Reading rooms—Attendance for the month, 310; evening attendance, 564; total, 874.

Educational classes—Arithmetic, 21; penmanship and bookkeeping, 25; total, 46.

Two entertainments—Attendance was 825.

Committee meetings—Entertainment committee, 5 meetings, 44; lecture committee, 2; educational, 3; week of prayer, 2; board meeting, 9; total, 60.

Total attendance at the rooms for the entire month of November, 1885.

The report is very full and shows everything that has been accomplished. It is desired to collect up all the subscriptions due during the month, and for this purpose A. D. Soper and L. H. Wells will call on all the subscribers.

The educational classes are doing finely, and are the means of attracting many young men to the rooms and increasing the membership.

THE CITY JAIL.

The city marshal called attention to the condition of the city jail at the last meeting of the council, remarking that it should be repaired. It really needs something to be done to it, not to make it a comfortable place of resort, but to place it in condition that it will not be inhuman to put a criminal in. It is a damp place, cannot be kept warm when the weather is cold, and then it is next door to the pound, which does not add much to the jail as a pleasure resort. As a terror to evil doers it is certainly a success. The Salvationists ornamented the walls with Bible quotations written in colored letters a foot long, which in comparison with the surroundings are extremely grotesque.

WHO WANTS A STREET LAMP?

There are several of the old coal oil street lamps and fixtures on hand that are of no use to the city, and as the bell tower, in which they were formerly stored, is now used for hay and grain, there is now no place in which to keep them. It would be just as well to allow those on the outskirts, where there are no electric lights, to have these lamps and fixtures. They are of no use to the city. Should any one want a lamp the street commissioner is the one to see about getting it. He says he must make some disposition of them pretty soon.

NEEDED SIDEWALK.

Some are inclined to condemn the council for authorizing the construction of a two-foot sidewalk from Holladay avenue to Cedar, and advance the ridiculous idea that the improvement was ordered for the benefit of the property owners. It is for the benefit of the hundreds that go to the O. & C. depot, who have been compelled to wade through the mud ankle deep. At best the sidewalk is only a cheap, temporary affair, and cannot be of any advantage to the property.

MISSING VEGETABLES.

Yesterday a large pumpkin and cabbage were missing from the garden of Mr. Walker, near St. John. When Mr. L. Byars was seen driving in a buggy in that neighborhood he had a pumpkin and a head of cabbage in the buggy, but Mr. Byars claimed he traded for the vegetables. However, Mr. Byars's reputation for truth has been impaired by his snake stories and his statement may be taken with some grains of allowance.

ANOTHER NAME.

Another name is mentioned on the street in connection with the office of street commissioner, and that is Thomas E. Turnbull. It is claimed that no better man could be named than Mr. Turnbull; that as a street contractor he has always done work that passed muster; and it is held that with Turnbull as street commissioner no contractor could foist a bad job on the city.

A SICK LIGHT.

The electric light on Eighth and L streets has been cut off for some time. Mr. Ernst, who has charge of the electric plant, stated he would have it repaired yesterday. In the press of getting the new dynamo in running order he had been unable to look after this light in person and sent a man to put it in order, but who, it seems, failed to start the light going.

WORK TO COMMENCE.

It was stated yesterday that contracts for work on the Woodstock & Waverly electric line on that portion outside the city will be let to-day. Under [illegible] on hand no work inside the city limits will be done, as the company are required by their franchise to complete each block before commencing on another.

MOVED TO SILVERTON.

Rev. M. Judy, who arrived from California about two months ago, has moved to Silverton, where he will have charge of the Methodist church. He will likely be re-transferred to the Oregon conference at the next session.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. S. Heath, of Spokane Falls, is visiting with Mrs. W. T. B. Nicholson in this city.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

On and after December 4, by special request of his patrons and friends, Mr. Freimann has consented to reopen his elegant establishment to the public at night, and has made extensive improvements and alterations in his kitchen, so as to be able to make a specialty of oysters (theater parties take notice), and has imported a first-class oyster cook for that purpose.

For the benefit of the traveling public breakfast will be served in the magnificent Pullman dining cars now run on the Union Pacific fast mail train leaving Portland at 7 A. M. immediately after the departure of the train.

BEFORE THE JUDICIAL BENCH.

U. S. Grand Jury—No New Trial—Demurrer Overruled—Divorce Cases—Suit for Damage—Set for Trial—Etc.

The United States grand jury yesterday returned a true bill in the case of Dodd and Walker, charged with mail robbery, and Charles Lewis, mate of the steamer Elder, charged with maltreating a passenger.

The grand jury has taken a recess until January 14, at which time they will be prepared to examine into numerous complaints, various "timber cruisers" and their victims who have been violating the laws in the matter of taking timber lands. There is likely to be a heap of trouble made for parties who have allowed their cupidity to take precedence of their sense of right.

James Turk was arraigned in the United States circuit court yesterday, and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of boarding a vessel without permission, but to a charge of secreting and harboring a sailor from the same ship he entered a plea of not guilty.

HE GETS NO NEW TRIAL.

In the matter of a motion for a new trial for James T. Berry, who married a woman in Breckenridge, Colo., several years ago, and subsequently wedded another in Albina, without doing through the formality of divorce proceedings, recently convicted of polygamy, Judge Stearns has denied that there was any error in law, insufficiency of evidence, and that any of the allegations in the motion were based upon facts.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Yesterday morning George Reinweber, an inmate of the poorfarm, sent here by the county judge of Wasco county, was examined by Dr. A. C. Panton and adjudged insane. The patient had once before been confined in the Oregon asylum, and had also been in an Ohio institution for the insane.

THE DEMURRER OVERRULED.

Judge Stearns yesterday overruled the demurrer to the indictment of Walter Keyes, charged with setting up a lottery scheme. The demurrer was based upon the fact that the indictment was returned on the 16th of October, the same day that Keyes pleaded guilty to a former indictment and paid a fine of $350.

The court held that the first indictment was founded on the offense committed on the 17th of August, on which day Keyes was arrested, which is specifically set forth in the indictment, and that each day thereafter that he carried on the lottery scheme was a distinct crime.

TWO MORE DIVORCE SUITS.

Yesterday the following divorce suits were filed in the state circuit court:

Isabel Davis against William P. Davis, to whom she was married at The Dalles, November 26, 1883. Mrs. Davis charges her husband with the crime of adultery, committed at divers places and with various women in this city. In addition to a decree the plaintiff also prays for the custody of her infant daughter.

Louise M. Green wants a divorce from N. B. Green, to whom she was married in Grass Valley, Nevada county, Cal., February 27, 1881. The charge against the defendant is gross and habitual drunkenness. Plaintiff also asks for the custody of her minor daughter.

BEGAN SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Yesterday afternoon Jacob Sittell commenced a suit against Policeman E. K. Whitehead to recover damages in the sum of $2500. The grounds upon which Sittel bases his demand, as set forth in his complaint, are that at 9 o'clock on the 19th of November last, Whitehead entered plaintiff's house, without a warrant to do so, unmercifully beat and assaulted Sittell, and placed him under arrest. At that time Mrs. Sittell had just given birth to a child, and her husband was in attendance upon her, but Whitehead conveyed him to jail without allowing the plaintiff to obtain assistance from his neighbors, thus endangering his wife's life.

CASES SET FOR TRIAL.

The following cases will be tried on the day mentioned:

Forbes vs. Willamette Electric Company, December 5; Murphy vs. Albina, 5; Willey vs. P. & W. V. Ry. Co., 6; McKay vs. McKay, 6; Fuog vs. Fuog, 7; Gastel vs O'Leary, 9; Caswell vs. Leavens, 10; state vs. Gibbs, 10; Estes vs. Nicolai, 11; Fischer vs. Bain, 11; Buchanan vs. P. & W. V. Ry. Co., 12; state vs. Mayre, 12; state vs. McLaughlin, 13; Flynn vs. S. W. P. R. E. Co., 16; Courtney vs. Halfpenny et al., 17; state vs. Halzelwood, 17; state vs. Young, 18; state vs. Carter, 19; Donovan vs. Belgrade, 19; McCaffrey vs. Markle, 20; First National bank of Salem vs. Oregon & Washington Mortgage Savings bank, 23; state vs. Wallace & Gessford, 24; Portland National bank vs. Hughes, January 2; Love vs. Morrill, 3.

JUDGE TANNER'S GRIST.

In the police court yesterday William Boyle, Jessie Long, J. R. Smithson, and M. J. Boyle, ordinary drunks, were fined $10 each; W. D. Cummings, who was loaded with the invidious bug juice, was taxed $20, and A. H. Rumfall and P. Ryan, who indulged in just enough to be disorderly, were fined $10 each.

John McClears, Charles Williams and Frank Henderson, whose offenses came under the category of disorderly conduct, were fined $10 each, Cussie Acquit, same charge, only $5.

"Professor" King, an itinerant song and dance artist, who makes a living by performing in houses of questionable resort, was fined $20 for roaming the streets after 12 o'clock midnight. John Peters and Dan Ward, two tramps, too lazy to work and too much afraid to steal, were sent up for sixty and forty days respectively, on a charge of begging. Henry Miller was fined $50 for stealing a pair of gloves worth 50 cents from the Farmers' and Mechanics' store on First street.

Rodney Love, who was arrested for assisting a prisoner to escape, will have an examination Saturday afternoon. Young Love's offense consisted of helping his brother, Fred Love, to escape from Officer Gibson, who attempted to arrest the latter for fighting.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

AN EX-SOLDIER STABBED.

A Barroom Brawl Results in F. J Wilson Being Fatally Wounded.

Francis's Saloon, Vancouver, the Place Where the Quarrel Started—Moran the Assaulter Makes Good His Escape.

"The—— ——has given it to me," were the words uttered by F. J. Wilson as he staggered into Francis's saloon, corner Sixth and C street, Vancouver, at 10:30 o'clock last Tuesday night.

Before the large crowd in the barroom realized what the man had said, the latter reached to his left side, grasping the handle of a large dirk knife which was imbedded to its hilt in his body just below the floating ribs, drew the dripping instrument of death from his flesh. Becoming faint at this juncture, Wilson dropped the gory blade and fell to the floor.

A short time previous to the occurrences recorded, Moran and a man named McCarthy became involved in a quarrel, during which the latter slapped Moran in the face. The latter drew a large double-edged dirk and said that if McCarthy did not leave the saloon immediately, he would get hurt. A man named Jackson attempted to put Moran out at the time, but could not. Finally, the saloonkeeper took the latter outside and gave him a talking to. Wilson was then standing on the sidewalk. He is a half-witted man, and, after the saloonkeeper left Moran, who had started to walk away, he (Wilson) followed him up. After turning into Reserve street, Moran saw that he was being followed, and it is supposed he thought the man was McCarthy who was dogging his footsteps. At all events, he turned suddenly and drove the knife into Wilson's side and left it there, making good his escape.

Immediately after the stabbing, Wilson walked into the saloon, with the knife in his body, as stated. After falling to the floor, the persons in the saloon picked the wounded man up and carried him to St. Joseph's hospital, where he now lies at the point of death. Dr. J. R. Smith was called to dress the wound, which is between the floating ribs and hip bone, about four inches to the left of the navel. An OREGONIAN reporter had a brief conversation with Dr. Smith yesterday. He stated that the knife had gone nearly through Wilson's body, but he was unable to say whether the intestines had been severed or not. The patient has suffered no hemorrhage as yet, but is in a state of collapse and liable to breathe his last at any moment. When the reporter left Vancouver last evening, the district attorney was preparing to take Wilson's ante-mortem statement.

Marshal Handy stated that he had no traces of the would-be murderer. In the excitement following the stabbing Moran disappeared as suddenly as if the earth had opened up and swallowed him. Rumor has it that he was seen leaving town on the county road, but no one seems to know this for a certainty. All the boats leaving Vancouver were thoroughly searched by officers, so Moran did not make his escape in this manner. Mr. Handy is confident that the man will be captured, as he has an important clue upon which he is working. Besides, the fugitive is well known. Both Moran and his victim are discharged soldiers. The former has a bad record and is known as a ready man with deadly weapons.

DRS. DARRIN CAN BE FOUND

At the Washington Building, Corner Fourth and Washington Streets—Another Wonderful Cure.

A Remarkable Cure of Lung Trouble.

Mr. Editor, Dear Sir: About two years ago I was stricken down with paralysis, and confined to my bed for six months. About that time my lungs and liver became congested, and indigestion followed. My lungs became diseased, with a heavy cough, and I gradually failed in health. Four months ago I called on Dr. Darrin for treatment. He has so far restored me to health in all respects, that I am able to be around, and have not the slightest doubt of an absolute cure. I reside at Milwaukie, Or., and my son can be seen at the Esmond hotel to vouch for this statement. J. J. BLAIR.

Drs. Darrin's New Place of Business.

Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at the Washington building, corner of Washington and Fourth streets, Portland. Rooms 16, 17, 22 and 23, second floor. Ask the elevator boy for room 16. Office hours, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhœa, stricture, spermatorrhœa, seminal weakness, or loss of desire of sexual power, in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed, and never published in the papers. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors' office. Inquiries answered and circulars sent free. (Parties writing will please mention paper.)

There is no property in the neighborhood of Portland at such prices that have surety of connection by Electric Street Railway to the center of Portland. We make no assertions that are not facts, and investigation will satisfy you. To those in want of acre tracts for homes, or to subdivide, we have them in Woodstock. No loss of ground in cutting streets, but every foot utilized. We believe it the best, and will be pleased to try and convince the skeptical.
